Barry Holds Edge But Write-Ins, Storm Compound Primary Riddle

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A swirling snowstorm and early write-in votes for Henry Cabot Lodge and Richard M. Nixon compounded the Republican riddle today as New Hampshire voters cast their ballots in the nation's lead-off presidential primary.

Sen. Barry Goldwater held a one-vote edge, but Lodge was right behind him as a trickle of votes from mountain hamlets began the tide that will shape up the battle for the GOP nomination to oppose President Johnson next November.

Goldwater's name was on the ballot; Lodge's and Nixon's were not.

Ktima Quiet But Mallia Poses Fears

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots kept an uneasy truce in battered Ktima today, but new fighting was feared as shots rang out in nearby Mallia.

The British army rushed a platoon to Mallia in an attempt to head off another outbreak that might plunge the Cypriot factions into all-out war.

Talks May Start

Talks between Greek and Turkish leaders aimed at restoring peace on this eastern Mediterranean island were expected to start today unless a new flareup occurred.

A cease-fire was imposed on Ktima Monday night after Greek and Turkish Cypriots battled more than 12 hours with bazookas. Informants said the truce was authorized by both President Makarios, the Greek Cypriot leader, and Vice President Fazil Kucuk, leader of the Turkish minority.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant cabled appeals Monday night to Archbishop Makarios and the foreign ministers of Greece and Turkey to halt the bloodshed which "can only lead to even more tragic and deplorable consequences."

Casualty reports from Ktima, a west coast port of 6,000 Greeks and 3,000 Turks, said (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

Haircuts and shaves at Kingston barber shops, starting March 17, are to go up 25 cents, bringing the costs to $1.75 and $1.25, Irving Bell, secretary-treasurer of Local 534, Kingston Journeymen Barbers, announced today.

"Across-the-board" increases have been under discussion for some six months, Bell said, and the Local decided Monday to make them, plus an increase in barbers' wages, effective as of next Tuesday in the 43 union shops.

A pay scale of $60 a week for barbers, plus 50 per cent of sums over $100 taken in at a single chair, goes to $75 a week, plus 50 per cent of sums over $90 taken in at a single chair. Journeymen barbers, for the first time, also gain a paid vacation of one week.

Notes Higher Costs

An increase of 34 per cent in operating overhead within the past four years, has made the price boosts necessary, Bell said. New sanitation requirements, plus higher costs for clipper blades, towel supplies and other items, he noted, have increased overhead, and present living costs require pay boosts.

The new price for crew cuts or "flat tops" is to be $2.00. The price of children's haircuts on Tuesdays through Fridays is to be $1.50, but on Saturdays they (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Strikebreaker Vote Doubtful This Time

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A bill to ban professional strikebreakers seemed today no closer to passage after a rancorous hearing at which industry denounced it as a "bludgeon" and labor hailed it as a "vital necessity."

There were indications a vote would be delayed until the next legislative session.

Assemblyman Anthony P. Savarese Jr., chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions, said he thought the committee's seven-hour hearing had "served its intended purpose—to let the public air its views."

The Queens Republican said the committee would advise legislators on testimony presented at the hearing if the bills came up for floor action this year.

But he added that it would be "physically impossible to make a comprehensive report" to the Legislature before the session ends later this month.

He said the committee would continue to consider the bills after the session ended.

The hearing Monday was called after the bill, introduced

Violence Out, Says Muslim

Statement Comes As Malcolm Quits

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The leader of the Black Muslims predicts the Negro will not turn to violence in the quest for equal justice.

Elijah Muhammad made the observation in his Phoenix home today after learning that his former top aide, Malcolm X, was breaking away from the organization. Malcolm X said his action was an effort to convert the 22 million non-Muslim Negroes "from nonviolence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

Believe in Peace

The 65-year-old Muhammad spoke quietly of the defection, his eyes sometimes watering.

"My people are more adapted to peace," he said. "They believe in peaceful solutions."

He said Malcolm X is too smart to start any violence, adding that "he has no guns, no ammunition."

Malcolm X had been a Muslim for nine years.

"We are surprised," said Muhammad. "I never dreamed this man would deviate from the nation of Islam. Every one of the Muslims admired him. But what he has said makes it definite. He has deviated."

Sees No Effect

Muhammad said he felt the announcement by Malcolm X would have little or no effect on the civil rights bill pending in Congress or on the attitudes of the nation's Negroes.

The chief of an estimated 275,000 Negroes said Muslims believe in separation of race only "if America will not give us equal justice."

He added, however: "I see no signs of equal justice."

If this is not attained, he said the Muslims want "the slave master and his slave to be separated."

Hearing Slated Wednesday on 4 Zoning Changes

A public hearing of four proposed zoning ordinance amendments is to be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Common Council chamber by the council's laws and rules committee, headed by Alderman John Machione (R) 12th Ward.

One proposed change would affect a section of the ordinance dealing with amendments, another deals with defining the meaning of the term "zoning board," a third would change the zoning designation of the William Zang property at 329 Albany Avenue from residential to a classification permitting an office building. The fourth would correct a designation of the Deyo cider mill property on Flatbush Avenue which had been listed as residential. It would be classified to permit operation of light industry.

Sweeps Also on Ballot

Some Democrats were afraid the write-in movement would embarrass the President by producing more votes for Kennedy than for Johnson.

In addition to the ballot on presidential hopefuls and town (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Storms, Tornadoes, Floods Plague U. S.

Snow, rain, floods and tornadoes wove a path of misery and destruction through sections of the United States today.

The snow belt stretched from New England down into Kansas and Oklahoma, and caused at least three deaths in St. Louis.

In other sections, mostly in the Midwest, Southwest, East and Southeast, rain and sleet caused hundreds of traffic accidents, stalled thousands of motorists and forced many rivers and streams beyond their banks.

Families Driven Out

Thousands of families were driven from homes by flood waters.

Many highways in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Missouri were closed.

An airplane carrying three men and a cargo of freight crashed today into a Boston waterfront lumber yard during a sleet and near-gale storm. All were killed.

Scores of schools and places of business were shut down by swollen rivers and streams.

Highest in History

The rainfall since Monday averaged between 5 and 8 inches in much of the flood area.

At Louisville nearly seven inches of rain up to 7 a. m. today brought the month's total to 12.88 inches, highest monthly figure in history.

The Red Cross and National Guardsmen aided evacuation of families from flooded areas in the Ohio River Valley, hardest hit by the new rains.

Ohio Surges On

The Ohio River continued surging toward its fourth highest level in history and it appeared that the situation would get worse before it gets better, particularly along the river below Cincinnati.

The Weather Bureau in Cincinnati forecast that heavy rains would taper off today and the river would reach 66 feet by Thursday then probably go higher.

The turbulent weather in the South set off more torrential rains in the Ohio River valley. An intense storm centered over Kentucky and rain splashed the region for the fifth day this month. Weather Bureau officials said the rain may end in many areas today.

Surprise Storm

Snow, sleet and rain hit areas from Oklahoma and Texas to New England. Nearly a foot of snow fell at Tahlequah in eastern Oklahoma during a surprise storm Monday. Amounts measured eight inches at nearby Muskogee, with snow in most parts of the state except in eastern sections.

Another belt of snow, sleet and rain pelted areas from Kansas and Arkansas to Southern Illinois (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Award of $317,571 Made by Court For Bright Acres in Road Program

An award of $317,571 recently made in the New York State Court of Claims to Anna M. Godfried for lands taken for the reconstruction of new Route 209 Kingston By-pass and the realignment of Route 28 and a town road adjacent to the Thruway traffic circle in the Town of Ulster, is believed to be the largest local award for highway takings ever made in the county.

The award exceeds the $274,000 award made in the Milton Walker case for lands taken at the Thruway entrance and for the realignment of Sawkill Road, and also the Dugan award of $190,000 for lands taken for the new interchange at the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge north of Kingston.

Former Land Estate

The Godfried property located on Route 28, formerly the Elissa Land estate and known as "Bright Acres," comprised a total of 105.64 acres before the taking and a total of 24.267 acres were taken for the highway improvement. For lands taken the Court of Claims made a direct taking award of $217,483 and for consequential damages an award of $100,088.

Tried in the Court of Claims before Judge Paul Reuss, the claimant was represented by Kingston Attorney N. LeVan Haver with John E. Egan of counsel. The claim for damages was filed October 8, 1960, and the award was made judgment entered in the Court of Claims on March 2, 1964.

Valuable Acreage

Most valuable of the property taken was a large level acreage fronting 1,200 feet on Route 28, which was adapted for commercial use prior to the taking.

During the trial testimony was offered showing that the acreage, at grade with Route 28, was adapted for a regional shopping center. There were no structures on the lands taken except for a small "pony shed." Of 34 acres on the north side of Route 28 the state took 21.489 acres upon which a value of $9,000 an acre was placed. The award for direct damages for this taking was $193,401.

On the south side of Route 28 there was a small parcel upon which was located a Texaco gas station. For the 6 acre of land classified as "commercial," an award of $22,000 for direct damages was made. On the north side of Route 28 was 2,082 acres classified as "residential," and (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Highway Crews Are Kept Busy

WGHC, Cable Co. Have Line Trouble

Calendar-wise, spring is supposed to arrive 10 days from now.

But old man Winter, true to his colors: White for snow and blue for the way winter-weary citizens feel about it, set up his traditional last-ditch stand.

He whipped up a wind-driven freezing rain that coated northern Ulster and Greene Counties, forced the closing of schools in at least three areas, and was responsible for at least one traffic accident early today which was attributed to the hazardous driving conditions.

Snow Predicted

The weatherman predicted the possibility of an 18-hour storm today with some snow in northern areas.

All Saugerties schools, including St. Mary of the Snows, and schools in Catskill, including parochial; Leeds and Red Hook, closed because of hazardous driving conditions.

State Police at Leeds substation near Catskill in Greene County, said that the rainfall, which started and continued through last night, turned to sleet about 6 a. m. today.

Troopers said James Costas, 47, of Perth Amboy, N. J., escaped injury when his westbound car skidded on slippery Route 23 about a mile west of Windham, left the highway and came to a stop in a field. The mishap occurred about 5:30 a. m.

Kingston city engineer's office said strong winds hit the area through this morning with gusts of between 50 and 55 miles an hour.

Rainfall between midnight Sunday and yesterday morning measured 0.30 inches.

The sleet tapered off to a drizzle by mid-morning in the Kingston area as temperatures remained generally in the low to upper 20s.

Wind Does Damage

There was evidence of wind damage, although the accumulation of heavy ice on trees and power lines added to highway hazards. A large tree limb fell across Route 9W near the Bridge Circle Restaurant in the Town of Ulster, causing vehicle traffic to drive around it in both lanes. Fallen limbs and branches were reported in other areas.

Although the steady rainfall preceded the sleet, there appeared to be no indication of area creeks and streams filling up to overflowing.

Radio, Cablevision Out

Utility and highway department crews as well as law enforcement agencies were kept busy through this morning answering emergency calls throughout both Ulster and Greene Counties.

Radio station WGHC went off the air at 10:15 this morning due to a break in the main transmission line between the Boulevard and the station.

Governor to Have Choice About Presentments by Grand Juries

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, who has urged the Legislature to restore the right of grand juries to make presentments, apparently will have two versions to choose from.

A legislative source said Monday that the majority leaders had decided to pass two measures to renew the right of grand juries to issue reports critical of public officials without indicting them. The Court of Appeals outlawed presentments in 1961.

The two measures have minor variations and the source said approval of both versions would let the governor decide which to sign.

In other developments yesterday: Full Crew Law—Railroad unions rejected the latest version of a bill to repeal the railroad full-crew laws, as requested by Rockefeller. The four brotherhoods said in a statement that the new version contained nothing to alter their opposition.

Narcotics — The Assembly Rules Committee introduced bills that would authorize the state police to set up a bureau of narcotics to "prevent, investigate and detect" violations of the narcotics laws; prohibit suspension of sentences or placing defendants on probation in cases of second convictions of felonies involving narcotics laws; and increase the penalty for third and fourth misdemeanor convictions in narcotics cases.

Proposed penalties would be nine months to a year for third offenders and 11 months to a year for fourth offenders. The present minimum is six months for second and subsequent convictions.

Safety Belts—The Senate approved, as had the Assembly, a bill that would require safety belts for each passenger in school vehicles seating up to 12 children or 11 adults, effective Sept. 1. The measure, sent to Gov. Rockefeller, was aimed at station wagons used to transport school children.

One of the grand jury bills, introduced Monday by the Senate Rules Committee, would permit an official named in a presentment to file an answer that would be made public simultaneously with the grand jury report. This measure would become effective immediately.

An earlier bill, reported for floor action in the Assembly last week, would bar district attorneys from reviving old material submitted to previous grand juries. It would become effective July 1. The new bill does not contain the restriction on old material.

Both grand jury bills would permit criticism of a public official by name only if the alleged misconduct justified removal or disciplinary action. The official would have the right to appeal to a higher court to quash the report before it was made public.

The new full-crew repeal bill was introduced last week by Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy, R-Dutchess County. The bill would protect the jobs of all present railroad employees until they quit, retired, died or agreed to transfer to an equivalent job.

McNamara May Go After Guard To Cut Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who made the Army National Guard swallow one major streamlining, may take aim at the politically potent guard again in an effort to cut costs.

Indications point to such a move after the November elections.

Informed sources said McNamara has shown increasing skepticism about the value of Guard and Reserve units that would not be ready for use in emergencies, but would be mobilized only in event of a long war.

This could put in jeopardy 15 National Guard infantry and armor divisions and 6 Reserve infantry divisions which now have a lower priority—and with that lower priority, fewer men and less modern equipment.

The states and Guard — Reserve backers and Congress could be expected to battle any drive to reduce these forces even further.

It costs about $7 million a division to maintain the low-priority outfits for a year, or a total of $147 million annually.

The Army considers this investment worthwhile because it provides a base for general mobilization.

A little more than a year ago the Guard ran up the surrender flag after its state chiefs and a group of governors unsuccessfully sought a drastic overhaul.

In that reorganization, four National Guard and four Reserve divisions, plus 731 smaller units, were dropped from the rolls as unneeded or obsolete.

Albany Medical College Slates Teaching Day

ALBANY—How should a doctor who is not a psychiatrist handle psychiatric problems that he encounters in his everyday medical practice?

This subject will be discussed at a post graduate teaching day in psychiatry, to be held at Albany Medical College on Thursday, March 12, starting at 10:30 a. m.

Physicians in Kingston and surrounding area have been invited to attend the program, which will be devoted primarily to seminar sessions. In order to keep the seminar groups small, physicians have been asked to register in advance. Only a few more registrants will be accepted.

Found Frozen to Death

CHILDWOLD, N.Y. (AP) — John Sevey, 59, of Star Lake, was found frozen to death Saturday near a woodland road, after his motorized sled broke down. State Police said he drove to a camp near this St. Lawrence County community last Tuesday, apparently had lost trouble on the way back and tried to walk out of the woods.

Planning Coordination Board. The board, composed of the heads of eight state agencies, recommended Saturday that the fort be deactivated by the Army.

Are Treating Glenn For Brain Injury

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. began a three to four day battery of examinations, including hearing and equilibrium tests, Monday for treatment of a brain concussion.

Glenn, who suffered the concussion in a bathroom accident Feb. 26 in Columbus, Ohio, was flown to Wilford Hall U.S. Air Force Hospital here Friday.

A hospital spokesman said Glenn continues "to suffer with the dizziness when standing and sitting that has been the primary complaint" since the accident. The fall injured his inner ear equilibrium.

A spokesman said "X rays taken over the weekend were normal and doctors were still optimistic of meeting Glenn's hopes for April 1 retirement."

Glenn is a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio. He plans to be campaigning soon after April 1.

Plan to Invade Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Junta, a large anti-Castro band, renewed a vow today that its men will be fighting Communist forces inside Cuba by May 20.

Rogelio Cisneros, Miami head of JURE, as the junta is called, also announced a Cuban exile meeting here on that date, Cuban independence day, to honor President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, outspoken foe of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Would Double Tax For State on 'Deadly Smokes'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A special Senate Committee says the cigarette is a "deadly poison" and proposes doubling the state tax of five cents a pack on cigarettes.

The added revenue would be used to finance a major research program on "the cigarette and the diseases it causes," and for aid to public schools, the Committee on Smoking and Health suggested Sunday.

The committee, headed by Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, said that statistics compiled at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo showed "cigarette smoking killed 20 per cent of New York State male residents" in the 45-64 age bracket who died last year.

Speno's committee further recommended a ban on cigarette advertising on television during hours when children normally watch.

"The cigarette, with or without filter is a deadly poison and a lethal weapon and an addiction for many," the committee report contended.

The Speno group estimated the five-cent increase in the cigarette tax would produce about $127 million in new revenue.

The report recommended that $25 million of this be allocated for "the first major public health program in the nation directed exclusively to the cigarette and the diseases it causes."

The remainder of the money from the increased tax should be used for "other basic state services, primarily aid to public school systems," the committee said.

Speno is one of a group of legislators from fast-growing suburban areas who have been demanding a major increase in state aid to schools this year. None is provided in Gov. Rockefeller's proposed budget.

Rochester Town to Vote on Bingo Measure March 19

A special referendum on a proposed bingo ordinance for the Town of Rochester will be held Thursday, March 19 at the town's polling places from 2 to 8 p. m.

A discussion was held on the appointment of election inspectors for the special voting at last week's meeting of the Town Board. Further information on qualifications for election inspectors is available from the town attorney, Saul Altholz.

To Inspect Street

Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder suggested that the Planning Board appoint a committee to inspect a street in the Sheldon housing development offered to the town by dedicatory deed. This committee will accompany members of the Town Board to inspect the street before accepting the deed from Friend Sheldon. It was announced that minutes of the Planning Board presented are on file and may be viewed by the public.

Howard Terwilliger pointed out that he feels a dangerous condition exists at the intersection of the Boice Mill Road and Route 209. He also said that it is especially bad in icy weather and that visibility is poor entering onto Route 209. After a discussion a motion was made that the Town Clerk write to the Department of Public Works asking that they send a representative to inspect the intersection.

Supervisor Kelder presented his monthly report, Town Clerk-Tax Collector Eileen R. Baker presented monthly reports, general fund bills were presented and approved for payment.

A resolution was passed that the Town Attorney Altholz be authorized to prepare a cancellation of a lease with the Earl Lange Estate for property leased to the Town of Rochester for a dumping area. The said cancellation will be conditioned upon obtaining a general release from the Earl Lange Estate.

$170,000 Claim Filed

A discussion was held on the notice of claim served on the Town of Rochester, in the amount of $170,000. The claimants are Joyce E. Slater, Clarence Slater and Anna Slater. The claim concerns an automobile accident which occurred within the Town of Rochester. The claim has been referred to the town's insurance company and attorney.

A motion was passed that bids be advertised for the Fuel Oil Contract, which expires on March 31.

Justice Abram D. Smith pointed out the need for toilet facilities in the First Municipal Building in Pataukunk, which is now being used for court purposes. After a discussion Supervisor Kelder appointed both Justice Smith and Justice Raymond Lawrence to a committee to obtain prices and information on the installation of this facility.

A discussion was also held on the necessity of redecorating the town clerk's office. Councilman Morris Sims will discuss this with the owner of the building.

Superintendent of Highways Richard T. Gray reported prices and information he had obtained on used bulldozers for dump work and also the necessity of acquiring a large truck for highway work.

A motion was made that the superintendent of highways prepare specifications and advertise for bids for a used bulldozer. By a vote of 4 to 1 he was also authorized to advertise for bids for a new truck.

How many ways does exercise help your child?

We're all aware of the more obvious benefits of exercise—to develop strength, skill, agility. But exercise has other important benefits. For instance, it is good for the heart and blood vessels. Indeed, daily, vigorous activity may be the most important factor in preventing or delaying heart disease. Moreover, the better a youngster's physical condition, the more likely he is to do well in his studies. And the physically fit boy or girl certainly measures up to challenging or competitive situations with a sureness that the under-developed child often lacks. Don't you agree that your child should have both the immediate and the long-range benefits of exercise? Won't you see to it that his school has a daily program that can improve every child's fitness? DANGER IN EXTREMISM

The rift between extremists and moderates in the Republican party seems to be intensifying. But the final showdown now appears likely to be delayed until June, when the California primaries are scheduled.

In the Golden State Joe Martin Jr., has resigned as Republican national chairman, giving as his reason "a sincere desire to prevent the Republican party in California from becoming a mere branch of the John Birch Society." Martin will work for the nomination of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

In Washington, meanwhile, Sen. Barry Goldwater has declared his confidence that he will win the California primary. But Martin declares: "I know that after a Goldwater victory... true Republican conservatives will be swept aside. The extremists will control the entire party as completely as they now control the California Young Republicans." Whether or not one agrees with this analysis, it deserves thoughtful consideration.

Even liberal Democrats, insofar as they are concerned about the nation's political future, will find no comfort in the spectacle of a GOP rending itself asunder. That would be a heavy blow to our two-party system. Moreover, the principle's of conservatism require a valid representation at the polls if the vital interests of the country are to be properly safeguarded.

The present trend is regrettable. The spreading cancer of extremism imperils the future not merely of any one party but also of that democracy to which both parties are traditionally dedicated.

A LAUGH FOR BOREAS

This is the season when old King Boreas has his little jokes at the expense of the optimists. Just about the time they figure he has been subdued, he lets go with a round-house swing. Some of his best wallops are in past years, if one thinks about it, says: delivered around now.

Everyone knows this, really. Experience in past years, if one thinks about it, says: March can be tough. No one truly thinks that this particular March is going to come up roses, with balmy zephyrs substituting for rough winds.

And yet... Well, there's always that little chance for a revolution in the weather. Grandpa insists the winters were fiercer in his youth. Maybe...

And then, whammo! Just when a fellow is getting used to not battling with snow and ice, just when he has stashed the snow shovel away in a corner of the garage and is thinking about what to plan in the flower bed near the porch, the heavenly roof falls in. That sound you hear is not the wind. That's King Boreas laughing.

POLITICAL APPROACH

One major source of confusion over Vietnam is failure to understand that our problems in that sorely beset nation are political as well as military. There is reason to think that Americans have come to look upon the situation there as mainly one that requires a military solution.

This is both dangerous and misleading. It is dangerous because gradual acceptance of increasing military involvement has now led the United States to the point of seriously considering extension of the war into North Vietnam, a course that might result in confrontation with Communist China and possibly even the Soviet Union. It is misleading because there is at least some chance that a political approach could bring about a solution without risking a second Korea.

The chances of success are not very good. But then the chances of military success are not very good, either. There was something to think about in the French foreign minister's recent remark that he failed to see how the United States could do with 20,000 men what the French failed to do with 200,000 a few years ago.

One disturbing possibility is that the shaky regime of Gen. Nguyen Khanh which resulted from a coup d'etat a bit more than a month ago may in turn be overthrown by

'These Days'

WHAT THE ELEPHANTS PAID FOR

Sarasota, Fla.—The fruits of the impulse generated by the old-time enterprisers, often mislabeled the robber barons, live on to delight Americans born to our own stifled time. Just back of the motel-strewn Route 41 in Sarasota, for example one stumbles upon a little jewel of a theatre, the Asolo, where the Turnau Opera Players have been presenting exquisitely staged Mozart, Verdi, and Rossini operas and Benjamin Britten's modern "Rape of Lucretia" to charmed audiences. The Asolo, an eighteenth century Italian playhouse, was assembled from parts made available by an Italian antique dealer and brought piece by piece in crates to the Florida west coast, where it has been housed after many vicissitudes inside a permanent shell.

The State of Florida assisted in giving the Asolo its new setting, but it wouldn't be here in Sarasota if John Ringling, the circus magnate, hadn't made a lot of money in a low-tax era and married a woman with a passion for all things Venetian. Mrs. Mable Ringling wanted to live in a mansion modeled on Stanford White's original Madison Square Garden in New York and the Doge's Palace in Venice, and she had the money to get her wish. Her fabulous house, along with a Ringling Circus Museum and the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, was eventually willed to the people of Florida—and the little Asolo Theatre set up on the old Ringling property, completes the ensemble here on Sarasota Bay.

So this is what came out of a fortune made from exhibiting lions and elephants and selling pink lemonade all over America. And who, in our land, is worse off because Mr. Ringling was permitted to treat his income as his own? The money flowed into the circus coffers and through Mrs. Mable Ringling's fingers into the pockets of landscape gardeners, nursery proprietors, architects, stone masons, carpenters, importers, art dealers, shipping companies, insurance salesmen, real estate dealers, painters, decorators and heaven knows who else. Wouldn't you call this better than a WPA project? I would, particularly when it is considered that the Ringling Museums in Sarasota still give employment and pleasure to hundreds.

It is still possible to make a big fortune in America by one capital gains route or another, but money made in this manner tends to remain in corporate forms until the time comes for setting up a foundation to deal out tax-exempt grants. The foundations serve many laudable purposes, but the stamp of the personal and idiosyncratic is seldom upon their benefactions. Their choices frequently reflect hours of impeccable but uninspired paper work. The Ford Foundation, for instance, gave away a lot of money recently to support the American dance. Some worthy companies and schools were showered with funds running into the millions, but they all happened to be in the classical European tradition of ballet. Moreover, they were not precisely poverty-stricken when the eyes of the Ford Foundation's advisers hit upon them. The worthy indigenous American dance got nothing. And it is the indigenous companies—the Martha Graham Dance Company, the Jose Limon Company, the Tamir-Nagrin Company, etc.—that are really struggling.

The effect of our tax laws in a high-tax era is to channel money into forms approved by cautious people who are paid to be safe. The daring and the original are often overlooked. If a rich widow wishes to support a single struggling artist, she cannot take it off her taxes. But her benefaction is channelled through a foundation to support a large public institution, that is another story.

The tax cut has just been passed, which at least makes a move toward recognizing that a man's income is his own, is hardly sufficient to permit the John and Mable Ringlings of the future to indulge a taste for the fabulous and then to give it all away. But maybe we are on the threshold of a change in our thinking. The individually spent dollar gives just as much employment as the publicly spent dollar—and the product that it buys or supports is apt to be more interesting and more vital.

When Arteries Harden, Others Carry the Load

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have hardening of the arteries and heart disease but am much improved after three years of treatment. Do the arteries have the power to rid themselves of some of the fat that accumulates in them or causes hardening?

A—Your arteries cannot rid themselves of the changes that have taken place in their walls. If, however, you have been able to eliminate the factors that caused your arteries to harden, the work of the obstructed arteries will have been taken over by other arteries. This is accomplished by their becoming wider and by sending out collateral branches to nourish the tissues that were deprived of an adequate blood supply.

Q—In a recent column you advised against deep breathing exercises but you didn't give any reason. Please explain.

A—There is nothing wrong with standing before an open window in the morning and taking a deep breath. Many people do this and feel better for it. On the other hand to take a series of 10 or 12 deep breaths would expose you to the danger of hyperventilation. This would make you lightheaded or faint. It even causes some persons to lose consciousness momentarily. It is much better to go through a series of vigorous exercises that will make you take deep breaths. Deep breathing after such exercises helps you catch upon your oxygen supply without causing hyperventilation.

Q—In a recent answer you said Dilantin was given for epilepsy. I don't have epilepsy but my doctor is giving me this drug for throbbing in the head, ringing in the ears and general nervousness. In what way would it be helpful in my case?

A—Although this drug is most often used to treat epilepsy, it may also be used for persons with chorea (St. Vitus' Dance), shaking palsy and excited states. If it helps you, there is no reason why you should not continue to take it.

Q—I am 45 years old and will be married soon. I still menstruate. Would it be dangerous for me to have a baby at my age?

A—Many women have their first baby after the age of 37. Because a first labor at this age is likely to be unduly prolonged and because forceps delivery is so often necessary in such mothers, most doctors prefer delivery by Caesarean section. This would eliminate the dangers mentioned.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

a neutralist group that would ask the United States to pull out. We could not then remain, and would suffer an incalculable loss of prestige.

A political solution might not be unwelcome to the North Vietnamese regime, which does not relish the idea of direct Chinese control. And Peking, conscious of its troubles with Russia, might consider stabilization of Southeast Asia desirable. There is little reason for optimism, as was noted above, but the political approach should not be neglected. The alternatives are grim and perilous.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Achieving missile and space booster reliability is a long, tedious process.

Military launch vehicles have generally taken at least 20 flights to achieve 50 per cent reliability. Improvement beyond that point is slow and expensive. Take some figures on space boosters:

Thor-Agena reliability stands at about 70 per cent after about 80 flights. Atlas-Agena is about 60 per cent after about 30 flights. Scout, with 60 per cent reliability after 24 flights, has had a slightly-above-average development history.

Note that these have not been flights under battle conditions.

AS ONE OFFICIAL PUTS IT: "I would like to be sure we understand each other on this question of reliability, because we have a standard stock technical definition of reliability which has to do with the performance of the missile in operational tests according to a prescribed plan.

"Now, this is not the equivalent of a war, so that after you have run all those tests, what you know is that the missile got off the ground, flew and impacted in the target area. The warhead was not detonated, no counter-measures were used against you. That is the technical definition of reliability."

An Air Force scientist says that "even within that definition of reliability, we vary all over the map on particular missiles. The Minuteman, for example, hasn't had a great many tests... But considering the state of development of Minuteman, it looks good.

"The Wing VI and subsequent Minutemen haven't even completed their development, of course, but in the development tests which have been conducted this far, there is nothing to shake our confidence that the reliability levels which we are seeking in the program will be met."

The point is that some of the newer-model military missiles are not as far along as the older space boosters; some therefore have less reliability or less certain reliability now.

A TOP AIR FORCE OFFICIAL puts it this way: "The of the program. We are in a ventory are as good as we can expect them to be at this stage of the program. We are in a phase right now where we are rapidly going to build-up this confidence." He notes, however, that "there is a healthy lot of experience ahead of us."

He expects this experience will demonstrate "the reasonable reliability of these missiles." But he warns: "If I knew for sure what the results of this firing program were going to be, we would save a lot of money by not firing them. So I don't want to give you any false impression. But I have no particular reason for concern at this time."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

One of my neighbors gives me the Sunday New York Times, which takes me a week to read.

In the Feb. 2, 1964 issue, an article by Gladwin Hill on Beverly Hills was interesting. It seems in 1865 some Germans settled there and called it "Santa Maria" but it remained just a quiet town. In the boom of the 1880's the land was subdivided and called "Morocco" but folks passed it by, for it was just an expanse of bean fields. Then around 1914 came the Beverly Hills Hotel, named after Beverly, Mass., by an easterner, Burton Greene, and the 500 residents were persuaded to incorporate. In 1919 Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks brought note to its residential possibility. Beverly Hills, has a population just a little bigger than Kingston, some 33,000. We celebrated our 250th anniversary and they are now celebrating their 50th.

Kingston has some 100 miles of streets, and Beverly Hills is some two miles wide and three miles long, and is now considered one of the wealthiest communities in the country, with an average family income of nearly $20,000. Now strangely, there is no industry there, also no slums and no poor. They have some 13,000 households which are serviced by 70,000 telephones. There are no hospitals and no cemeteries in Beverly Hills and almost no one is born there. The homes range from $40,000 to $350,000, all set back of spacious lawns. Each assessed $100 brings some 99 cents for taxes, and their school tax is low. I have heard or read elsewhere they have their own private police force, who allows no one to walk on the streets at any time, everyone drives. Strangers and visitors are questioned when found wandering in Beverly Hills.

They have their Wilshire Boulevard business section which has fashionable shops bringing in some $221.5 million a year. There are also 1,000 lawyers, or one to 30 inhabitants, but these lawyers have clients outside of Beverly Hills. There are also 171 psychiatrists in these fashionable "hills." Their city is run by five unpaid members of council, and every year they designate one of their members as mayor. This year, the Mayor of Beverly Hills is Gene Gunther, a druggist.

Many years ago I visited someone in Sea Gate, Brooklyn, and I remember, I had to tell at the gate who I wanted to see, and they 'phoned to the resident to check before I was let in. Just ordinary folks lived in Sea Gate, yet one seldom if ever hears about any trouble or crime there. I often wondered about Sea Gate, who runs it, and how is it run, and what's the history of it. There must be other communities equally as well run.

Bernie Singer of the board of education sent me a "Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc." from 100 State Street, Albany. On school statistics, 1963-64 it says in part: "New York State is now spending far more per pupil than any other state in the nation. New York spends $705; New Jersey, $568; Connecticut, $552; Oregon $549; Wyoming, $540, and California, $530. New York is spending $175 or 33 per cent more than California, and it surpasses New York in population. You should see the chart. New York leaps way up in spending on each child, and most other states are able to give a child a decent education for $500. I wonder if we are wasting school taxpayer's money. In years gone by, you could send a child to a good college for less than it costs to put him through one year in grade school, in our local schools, so it seems to me.

The Seminole Indians never signed a peace treaty with the United States, but they did make official peace with the government in the 1930s.

Bankers of Country Await Full Impact of Tax Cut

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The average citizen may be thinking of how to spend his tax-cut money or about the political campaign that's coming, but the country's bankers are deeply concerned about what's going to happen after the full effects of the next tax law have been felt next year, not only in America but abroad.

The fear of inflation is growing among economists. The First National City Bank of New York, in its monthly letter doesn't mince words about what it feels may lie ahead unless preventive measures are taken. The economists of a large bank, with international as well as national problems to deal with every day, are not thinking of politics as they survey the situation, but of the hard facts of economic life. The bank letter says in part:

"The goal of higher growth rates should not divert attention from the fact that the dangers of renewed inflation are drawn closer by the $800 million-a-month tax cut. Alternance on the part of monetary authorities is, therefore, essential.

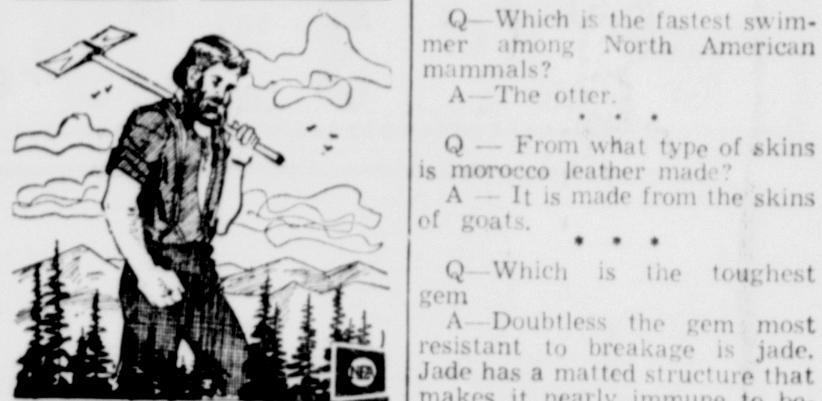

"In view of our balance-of-payments situation, it is recognized that monetary policy must remain flexible to guard against inflation or unwarranted movements of capital to foreign money markets. The increase in the British bank rate from 4 per cent to 5 per cent at the close of last month served as yet another reminder that other nations are faced once again with signs of overheating in their economies. It also becomes a new factor in international money market relationships."

Many observers of the economic picture are inclined to concentrate on what happens inside the United States and hence give little attention to the impact of international events on this country: Back in 1929 it was the failure of a big Austrian bank which started a chain reaction around the globe that developed into a worldwide upset of the economic equilibrium.

There has been a period of relative stability in the U. S. during the last three years and business has moved ahead. A large part of the industrial capacity was unused, and increased competition did tend to hold back price increases. The unemployment figure of 5.5 per cent has served to make labor unions reluctant to press for large wage increases. But the new tax cut, which will stimulate consumer business, doubtless will be used as a pretext for a new price-and-wage spiral. The National City Bank letter says on this point:

"Since the stimulus to spending will take some time to work its way through the economy, increasing pressures on prices and wages will probably not be strongly felt until late this year and in 1965."

The bank's letter declares that the Administration's "avowed strategy for dealing with inflation reveals a serious lack of balance," and adds that the pres-

...BY DESTROYING CERTAIN HARMFUL CATERPILLARS WHICH OTHER BIRDS AVOID.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Business is getting even more expansive in its growth plans as it eyes future prospects.

This necessary prop of the three-legged stool of the economy looms stronger with each poll of business intentions. The economy largely is shaped by consumer, government and business spending.

Optimistic View

Business thinking about its own growth turned optimistic late last year. Earlier estimates of how much it would spend this year for new plants and equipment were revised upward. They went from about the same as last year to a modest advance. Optimism grew and a couple of months ago still higher figures were forecast.

And now, with tax cut benefits a lively potential if not yet a solid actuality, businessmen are once more expanding their plans, and substantially.

Consumer spending, growing fairly steadily all along, is expected to gain momentum from a larger take-home pay, first fruit of the cut in federal income tax rates.

Federal government spending may hold fairly steady this year. But at the state and local government levels the total will mount. The economy can count on that.

See More Spending

From individual companies, business organizations, and various pollsters in and out of government almost weekly come predictions of stepped-up spending in the months ahead. True, these are intentions, and appropriations for future spending, and their effect on the economy will come later than the consumer spending spree that merchants are expecting as they launch spring promotions.

But business spending has ever-widening benefits. It helps the producers of raw materials, the makers of machine tools. It bolsters the construction industry. It creates jobs all along the line. And this increase in payrolls is quickly felt at the consumer spending level, thus benefitting still other industries, and perhaps encouraging them to expand, too.

Latest estimates of plant and equipment spending by businessmen this year put it around the $43-billion level. This compares with $39 billion last year, $37.3 billion in 1962 and $34.4 billion in 1961.

If the $4-billion increase is achieved this year, this along with gains in consumer and government spending would assure the economy the strong props that most forecasters are now assuming.

Boost Is Cited

Almost as important as the actual outlay of dollars by industry is the boost which the evidence of such spending will give the psychology of workers, businessmen, investors.

This won't solve all the problems by any means. But any increase in the tempo of industrial activity will help a little in at least containing unemployment. Any strengthening of the economy will make easier the task of defending the dollar and curbing the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments.

And an expanding industrial plant helps many workers—and employers—to raise a bit higher their standards of living.

Scottish chimney sweeps signal their partners by emitting plaintive moans. This assures that both are working in the same dark flue where they are rooftop forests of chimneys.

U. S. Loan League Names Local Man On its Committee

CHICAGO—Dewese W. Dewitt, executive vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, N. Y., has been appointed to the 1964 Committee on Federally Chartered Associations of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment was announced today by Eugene M. Mortlock of New York City, president of the League, which is the nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 5,000 savings associations and co-operative banks.

The Committee on Federally Chartered Associations was created for the purpose of studying legislative proposals and regulations of special interest to saving associations operating under federal charters.

Rigby to Serve On C of C Drive

Harry Rigby, Jr., has been appointed vice chairman of the Professional Division of the forthcoming membership drive of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce by general chairman Harry Kaprelian.

In making this announcement today Kaprelian expressed sincere appreciation over Rigby's willingness to serve in this capacity after recently completing a term as president of the Chamber.

Rigby is employed by the State of New York National Bank and is in charge of customer relations. He has been one of the most active individuals in a wide variety of community affairs for many years. He was a member of the committee which reorganized the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in 1945 and has served as a director, committee member or officer continuously since that time.

History and the promotion of the historical importance of the Kingston area and the Hudson Valley has been a special interest of his. He was active in the 300th anniversary celebration here in 1952 and served on the State's Year of History Commission in 1959 and in the widespread activities to celebrate the 350th Anniversary of the exploration of the Hudson River. He is a member and officer of the Ulster County Historical Society and serves as city historian.

Mahar, Waryas Will Be Drafted

Proposals to draft Town of Poughkeepsie Supervisor Thomas D. Mahar to run for state senator, and Mayor Victor C. Waryas, Poughkeepsie, for state assemblyman, will be made Thursday night to the Executive committee of the Dutchess County Democratic Committee.

County Democratic Committee Chairman Albert L. Hecht, who made known Sunday he is prepared to suggest drafting the two officials, described Mahar and Waryas as "the strongest possible candidates we could have for these state offices."

Hecht said he is prepared to follow through before the Dutchess County Democratic Committee with the suggested draft movement and work for support of Mahar as a candidate for Senate by delegates to the Democrats 35th District Senatorial Convention, Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester counties make up the 35th district.

Dutchess County Republican Committee members last Thursday unanimously designated Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy for senator in the 35th Senatorial District, and after four ballots named Eugene F. Frink, Pawling, Dutchess County's first assistant district attorney as the party candidate for the assembly seat.

Marlboro Area Red Cross Drive Chairman Named

The chairman for the Marlboro area Red Cross Fund Drive this year is Mrs. Paul Georgini, who announced that every effort will be made to bring Marlboro to its expected quota during the campaign in March.

Mrs. Georgini said that she is working with co-chairman John Pizzzo, co-chairman Rose Pesavento, co-chairman Lillian Van Hoesen, and already a number of volunteers have enlisted to solicit the residents of Marlboro.

The Red Cross provides help to servicemen and their families, help to expand blood programs, help in emergency and rehabilitation to victims of fires and disasters, help to health and safety training programs.

Miss New York Pageant Here Is Listed in Book

A fine colored photograph of the crowning of Miss New York State at the Pageant here last July appears on Page 23 of the new Vacationlands book published by the State Department of Commerce.

In calling attention to the photograph today, Albert Kurdt, president of the Miss New York State Pageant, said he was especially pleased with the recognition given to this major annual promotional event designed to publicize and attract visitors to the Kingston Area. The title of the picture is: "Beauty and talent mark the selection of a Miss New York State at the annual July Pageant in Kingston."

The photograph was taken by Sidney Lane of Kingston, an official photographer for the State Department of Commerce. It shows Miss Paula Heins, queen of the previous year, crowning the current Miss New York State, Barbara Ann Gleede of Staten Island. It also includes Miss Syracuse and Miss Buffalo the two runners-up in the competition.

The 1964 State Vacationlands book is a special World's Fair edition and it is understood that a million or more copies will be printed and distributed. Many wonderful photographs, designed to attract visitors, are included from all parts of the State. Practically every community in the State is listed. On page 25 Kingston is listed as the first capital of the Empire State, and as the locale of the annual "Miss New York State" Pageant in July is mentioned again.

The Miss New York State Pageant is staged by Pageant, Inc., a non-profit membership corporation consisting of 12 members, six appointed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and six by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. It is a cooperative promotional event put on by volunteers under a franchise awarded to New York State by the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City. The winner here represents the entire state in the Atlantic City Pageant and competes for the title of Miss America.

Scranton Offers Record Budget For Road Jobs

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton submitted another record road building budget to the legislature today and predicted that Pennsylvania will complete its federal interstate road system two years ahead of schedule.

Scranton sent the budget and other special fund budgets (fish, game, milk control, banking and harness racing) to the legislature with a message, but he did not appear personally.

The budgets do not require legislative action.

In allocating $125 million for construction of interstate roads in the over-all $566.3 million highway budget for 1964-65, Scranton said:

"The interstate construction program is now going so well that it can be predicted that in Pennsylvania, with the full co-operation of local and federal governments, we can now reasonably expect to finish the interstate program by 1970—a full two years before the completion of the national program."

Detective Slover Shot by Pellet In Own Vehicle

Detective William Slover, of the local police, narrowly escaped serious injury Monday night when a pellet, apparently from an air gun, crashed through the left front window of his car at Broadway and Andrew Street and struck him in the forehead about two inches from the left eye.

The pellet, he said, just "nicked" him, but it could have injured the eye, had it struck lower.

A report at 10:20 p. m. said Slover was headed for police headquarters in his own car. Officers Anthony Turk, Richard Scherer, Weston Hoffay and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to search the area. They reported having "no luck."

Police Report That Car Thieves Busy

Police were notified Monday night of a car theft, of a possible attempt to take another, and one reported stolen over the weekend was recovered.

A report at 8:50 p. m. said the car of Michael Corcoran, of 401 Delaware Avenue, had been taken from in front of that address, and one at 9:15 p. m. said Charles DeCicco, of Clay Road, Port Ewen, reported the hood of his car had been lifted in Sangi's parking lot off Cedar Street, and ignition wires were loosened.

A resident of Andrew Street notified police at 4:30 p. m. that a car had been parked near his house from some time. Officers Anthony Turk and Richard Scherer investigated and found it to be the sedan of Robert W. Gaines, of 65 West Chestnut Street, which was reported stolen Sunday.

Dick McCarthy, WGHQ news director said Central Hudson crews were still working on the break at noon.

The station returned to the air for its mid-day communique at 1 p. m. Cablevision reported at that time that there still was trouble at the tower end of its transmission line.

The same lines between Kingston and Port Ewen apparently handled Hi-Lo and Pantry Markets at Port Ewen at about the same time the radio station went off the air.

Kingston Schools Consolidated dismissed all classes at 1 p. m. Service of Kingston Cablevision Inc. went out at about 10 a. m., and had not been restored by early afternoon.

Joseph Benjamin, resident manager of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., said the "trouble spots" were widely scattered throughout the rural areas. He said he could give no indication as to the number of customers affected by the damage, but emergency crews were called to Woodstock, Tilton, Rifton, Esopus and other scattered locations. Benjamin said that the trouble resulted not from heavy ice formations on the power lines, but rather heavily icicles had fallen across the wires.

Central Hudson reported so many service interruptions in scattered areas that it became necessary to call for assistance from Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

The picture was pretty much the same with the New York Telephone Company.

Manager Albert Johnson said that several hundred telephone customers were affected in Kingston and the immediate area. He said that all available telephone company manpower was on duty and that additional personnel was brought in from the Poughkeepsie and Albany facilities to augment local emergency crews. Johnson said the trouble was mainly due to ice-covered trees and limbs falling across telephone lines.

Police Phone Busy

Locally, police reported numerous calls received at the switchboard about downed trees, limbs and power lines. Among some of the early "trouble spots" reported were limbs down on Albany Avenue near Manor Avenue, and wires down on Clinton Avenue and Maiden Lane and at Wurts and McEntee Streets.

Kingston police said at 11:30 a. m. that they had received from 20 to 25 calls from all parts of the city where tree limbs are reported down across the street.

In Port Ewen a large limb crashed into the eastbound lane of the River Road about 1 1/2 miles from Route 9W.

The New York State Highway Department reported rock and dirt slides in the Sunset Drive area and other similar slides widely scattered throughout the sector. However, a department spokesman said, most of the trouble appeared to be in the Catskill area.

Kingston fire headquarters also received several calls of broken electric lines, and after one at 11:10 a. m. units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wicks Company were dispatched to the H. J. Emerick home, 208 Manor Avenue, where it was thought broken wires might cause a fire. Two units responded by pending repairs.

The weather bureau in Washington and Kansas City included the extreme southeastern portion of New York in a warning for tornadoes early this afternoon, but the Weather Bureau in Albany did not include New York. All the bureaus described the tornado area as extending 60 miles either side of a line from Baltimore, Md., to 30 miles east of Lakehurst, N. J. The Albany bureau figured this would not quite reach the lower Hudson Valley.

Storms Plague

nois. Hundreds of motorists were stranded along a hilly 40-mile stretch of U.S. 71 from Fayetteville, Ark., northward to the Missouri border Monday night. The storm dropped 10 inches of snow in some parts of northwest Arkansas with six inches reported in a six-hour period in St. Louis.

Heavy snow was forecast along a narrow band from east central Missouri through central Ohio with the possibility the wet belt might extend into mountain areas of Pennsylvania and New England.

Most damaging floods were in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, but overflows of rivers and streams also hit areas in Missouri and southern Illinois. The Ohio River rose rapidly and appeared headed toward an expected 66-foot crest in Cincinnati, the highest since 1945, on Thursday.

Kentucky Drenched

In Kentucky, hard hit by the overflows, Louisville was drenched with nearly seven inches of rain Monday, a record downpour. Parts of Louisville and Evansville, Ind., were under three feet of water. More than 1,500 persons left their homes in Falmouth, Ky., as the Licking River reached a record 42 feet. More than 300 persons were evacuated from Poplar Bluff, in southeastern Missouri, as the levee along the Black River threatened to collapse. Heavy rain which hit the area for two days changed to snow Monday night.

Malaysia Eyes Troop Buildup

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia will start construction to build up its tiny armed forces because of the threat of war with its big hostile neighbor, Indonesia.

Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said after an emergency Cabinet meeting today. "The Cabinet considers the situation serious enough to warrant a call-up of persons between the ages of 21 and 29."

Malaysia, the six-month-old British Commonwealth federation of 10 million people, has a 15,000-man army, compared with 350,000 men under arms in Indonesia, a nation of 100 million.

About one-fifth of Malaysia's army is reported deployed in the Malaysian Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak. About 10,000 British troops are there helping Malaysia defend its 800-mile jungle border with Indonesian Borneo.

There have been frequent small outbreaks of fighting along the Borneo border recently despite a cease-fire arranged by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in January.

Report Doctor Is Still Critical

Dr. Roman F. Marchante, 54, of 1291 Spafford Avenue, Bronx, who was found in a coma Sunday night at the local Trailways bus terminal, was reported still in critical condition today at the Albany Medical Center. He was first taken to Kingston Hospital and later rushed to Albany. Authorities had not determined the cause of the coma.

Also still critical at the Albany Hospital is Mrs. Kenneth M. Branigan, 54, of 66 West O'Reilly Street, who suffered severe burns in her home Feb. 28, when a can of fluid exploded as she was filling a lighter. She suffered third degree burns of the body, head and face.

Curry Still Missing

Local police today said that Fred Curry, 16, of 504 Wilbur Avenue, reported missing for several days, has not been located. He was described as five feet, five inches tall, 140 pounds, brown eyes and black hair. He wore dark shoes, trousers a tan jacket, when last seen, and wears black, horn-rimmed glasses. Police were told he had been previously missing from home, and on two occasions was located at Broadway and Cornell Street.

Time For Meetings

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey said one reason for holding down the length of Senate sessions this week was to give committees time for important meetings in the mornings.

Humphrey, the floor manager for the civil rights bill, told newsmen he had not yet conferred with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen who is drafting substitutes for some sections of the bill.

Humphrey, referring to backers of the House bill and Dirksen, declared "I believe we are not too far apart" and indicated he felt some compromises could be reached.

Dirksen's support is considered essential in any successful move to vote cloture and shut off a Southern filibuster.

His substitutes would cover the public accommodations, fair employment practices and possibly the federal grant shut-off provisions of the House version. Humphrey said that many persons did not seem to realize how carefully circumscribed these sections were as written in the House.

Seminar Slated For Area Clergy Thursday, Apr. 16

A seminar for the clergy on the subject of "Family Counseling" will be presented Thursday, April 16, at Benedictine Hospital auditorium in Kingston. The program has been planned by a committee representative of different faiths in Ulster County.

Speakers will be James G. Ranck, PhD, in Philosophy of Religion from Drew University, well known for his work in the field of pastoral counseling, and Edgar Jackson, MD, director of the Psychiatric Clinic in Buffalo.

Dr. Jackson has recently addressed a similar gathering of clergymen in Niagara County, and is exceptionally qualified to speak on family counseling.

Attendance is limited to members of the clergy and religious institutions, and invitations are currently being mailed to all the clergy in the county. Clergymen from surrounding areas are also welcome.

The program has been set up to allow plenty of time for questions and discussion, and can therefore develop along the lines of interest and concern of those attending.

Registration will be at 9:15 a. m. The program will commence at 9:30 with a 40-minute address by each of the two faculty. There will be a coffee break, and the seminar will reconvene for approximately two hours of questions and discussion, terminating at 1:30 p. m.

Members of the planning committee are Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Mrs. Frieda H. Dingee, the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, the Rev. Cecil L. MacFarland, the Rev. Ronald D. Lokhorst, and Miss Katherine M. Murphy. Chairman is Mrs. Ruth Gold.

Further information can be obtained from Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston.

Troopers Probe Area Burglaries

State Police continued their investigation today into three area burglaries and larcenies Monday morning and night.

Investigator Joseph Franke of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation said about $1,100 in cash receipts was taken in a theft early Monday at the College Lanes on Route 299, New Paltz. He said the intruders pried open an exit door, ransacked an office, broke open a desk and stole the cash receipts. He said vending machines also were forced open.

The first half of the Women's Bowling Association's annual tournament took place throughout the day, prior to the theft.

The second theft occurred sometime Monday night at the Sunnycroft Ranch just outside of Wallkill. Cash and checks were reportedly taken.

In the third report, money and goods were taken from the Sinclair service station in Marlboro, where entry was gained by forcing a side window. Troopers said vending machines were forced.

Quiz Baker Aides

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee, with a partisan fight on its hands, went behind closed doors today to question two business associates of Bobby Baker.

Summoned for questioning were Scott I. Peek, a former top aide to Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.; and Jack Cooper, a Miami dog race track official who became one of the "silent partners" in Baker's Serv-U Corp., a vending machine firm.

It was also decided Monday to stagger the vacation time of barbers so that not too many of the city's barber shops will be closed at the same time. Michael Amato of Grove Street is president of the local

McNamara Talks On War Future

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara held intensive discussions today at U.S. military headquarters and the U.S. Embassy on the future of the Vietnamese war.

McNamara canceled another field trip scheduled for today, but sent several aides into the countryside to investigate various aspects of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The secretary made three speaking appearances in the Mekong River delta Monday demonstrating U.S. support for the military regime headed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

In a brief conversation with a newsmen, McNamara declined to comment on speculation that the United States is considering carrying the war to Communist North Viet Nam.

Rice to Admit Negro Students

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Rice University, one of the nation's last major segregated universities, has been given court authority to admit Negroes and also to charge tuition.

A judgment signed Monday by State Dist. Judge William M. Holland gives Rice trustees authority to disregard racial and tuition restrictions set out by the university's founder, William Marsh Rice, in an 1891 indenture.

As to lifting the racial restrictions, Rice President Dr. Kenneth Pitzer said, "We mean just that. Students will be admitted to all areas of college life without regard to color—in the dormitories, the laboratories, and on the athletic field."

Joe H. Reynolds, attorney for two Rice alumni who opposed any change in the university's racial and tuition policies, said he would ask a new trial.

Public Hearing Slated Thursday On Bus Service

A public hearing on transportation service between Kingston and New York City airports will be held Thursday 10 a. m. before the Public Service Commission of the State of New York, 199 Church Street, New York City.

To facilitate attendance at the hearing a limousine will leave the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday 9 a. m. returning at 6 p. m.

The omnibus service to be operated by the State-Wide Airport Transit Inc. would be between Kingston and John F. Kennedy and LaGuardia Airports with stops at Newburgh, Suffern and Spring Valley.

Pressing Backlog

Hampshire campaign with a televised speech Monday night in which he appealed to voters to judge him on his record and his position on various issues.

That approach was seen as a final effort to deter voters from rejecting him because of his divorce and remarriage.

In New York Tonight

The governor's speech on a Manchester television station followed a filmed documentary on his life. It included a brief reference to the 1962 divorce that ended his marriage of 31 years.

The governor's second wife, the former Margaretta (Happy) Murphy, was present for the program.

The governor will be at his national campaign headquarters in New York City tonight. He estimated there would be an indication of the New Hampshire trend between 11 p. m. and 2 a. m.

At 7:30 a. m. Wednesday, he will fly to California to resume campaigning in that state's primary, which will be held June 2.

He said he would make the California trip regardless of the outcome in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who accompanied the governor during the last four days of the New Hampshire campaign, will remain at home while he travels to the West Coast. She is expecting a child early in June.

Award Made . . .

upon which a value of $1,000 an acre was placed and for that taking an award of $2,082 was made for direct damages.

Additional 12.5 Acres

In addition to the lands actually taken there were 12.5 acres of land which had been classified as adaptable for commercial use prior to the taking at a $9,000 value per acre and only $1,000 an acre after the taking. An award of $8,000 an acre consequential damages was allowed for this for a total of $100,088.

Prior to the taking, access to the house on the Godfried premises, was directly from Route 28 over a portion of the flat lands. After the taking and the elevation of the new highway, a new access route was made necessary.

Appeal from the judgment which was entered on March 2 must be taken within 30 days by the State or Federal government, which shares 90 per cent in the cost of the award, if an appeal from the award is to be made.

15 Foreign Born Are Admitted To Citizenship

Fifteen foreign born residents of Ulster and Sullivan Counties were admitted to citizenship Friday before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley Jr., at a term of Naturalization Court held at the county court house. Eleven of those admitted were from Ulster County and four from Sullivan County.

Participating in the ceremonies were members of the Kingston High School A Cappella Choir, trumpeters from the M.J.M. School, members of the D.A.R. and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary members. Girl Scouts from Troop No. 48, Lomontville, and their leaders were also present at the ceremonies. The Girl Scouts attending are working for their citizenship badges.

Members of the Kingston A Cappella Choir, who sang the National Anthem, were Priscilla Brown and Linda Ropp, sopranos; Beth Hunter and Carolyn Onysyk, altos; John Kelse and Floyd Light, tenors; John McCullough Jr., and Gary Swanson, basses. Michael Cole and William Bittner, members of the M.J.M. Band, were trumpeters.

Members of the Color Guard from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary were Mrs. Sylvia Mackey and Mrs. Joseph Pucino. Flag bearer was Mrs. Douglas Edwards and Banner bearer, Mrs. Andrew Edge. Mrs. Thomas Hughes, president, gave the commands and Mrs. Robert Davis led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Kingston D.A.R., was represented by Mrs. Charlotte Peck and the Saugerties Chapter was represented by Mrs. Carroll Neiffer, Americanization chairman, and Mrs. William Young, Flag chairman.

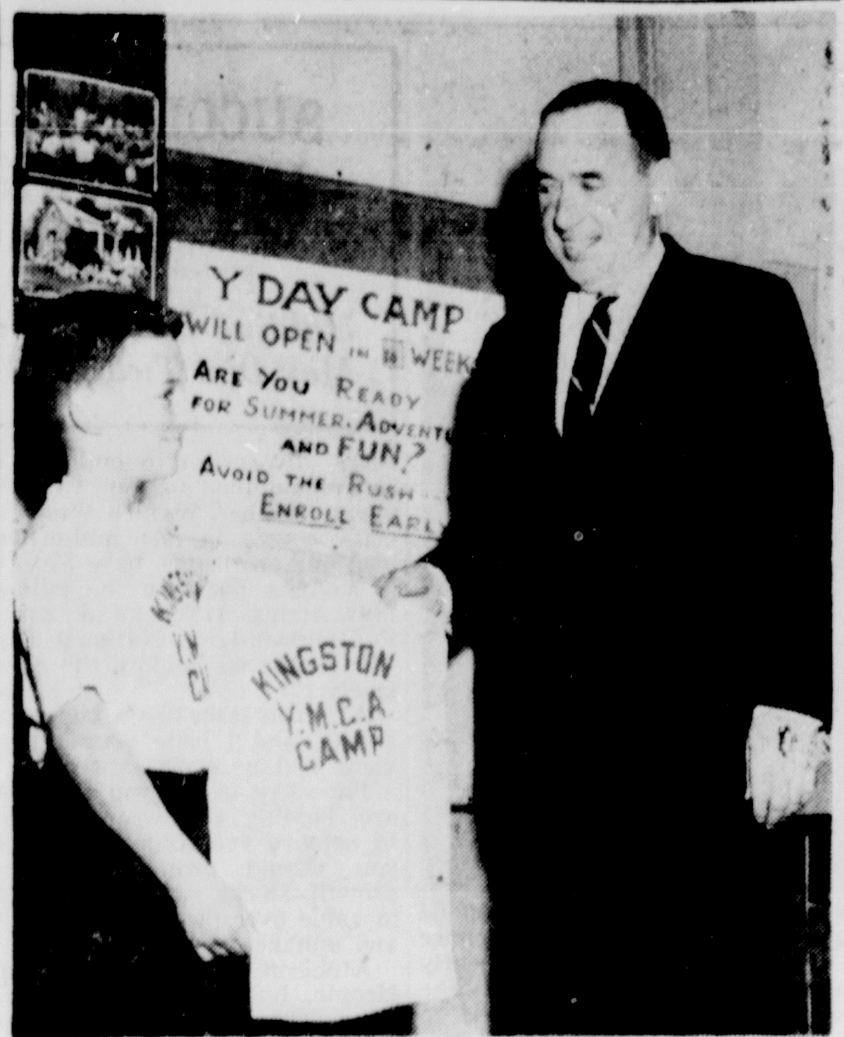

New Citizens
Admitted to citizenship from Ulster County were:

Jansje Welin, Roberta Dawn Gilpin, Rita Amelia Riffenburg, Louis William Marton, Giuditta Tucci, Meta Else Martin, Ernest Hermann Martin, Brunhilde Martin, who changed her name to Hilde Martin, Irene Meta Martin, Joseph Cricchio, Silke Maria Schnartendorff.

Those admitted from Sullivan County were:

Eli Muller, Robins Campbell McIntyre, Charles Konec, who changed his name to Charles Klemen, Yet Foon Jung, who changed his name to Allen Jung. The case of Magda Van Leuven was adjourned without date and the case of Ninon Hahnal was withdrawn by the petitioner.

Smith of Cough Drop Firm Left Over $2 Million

A $2,560,218.79 gross estate was left by Robert L. Smith, former chairman of the Board of Directors of Smith Bros. Inc., Poughkeepsie cough drop firm, according to a state tax appraisal approved by Dutchess County Surrogate W. Vincent Grady.

The gross estate includes $334,450 in Smith firm stock.

Smith, the last of the male line of five generations of the Smith family associated with the cough drop business, died Jan. 7, 1962. He was 71.

The appraisal by the New York State Tax Commission, showed that Smith held bonds that financed school construction in New York, New Jersey, California, Maryland and Pennsylvania. His estate also includes bonds on school construction in the Towns of Poughkeepsie, Fishkill, Wappingers and LaGrange.

Smith left the estate to his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds Smith; three daughters, Mrs. Richard A. Dweilley, whose husband is an executive and part owner of radio station WKIP; Mrs. Eugene B. Krieger, and Mrs. Gerald O. Kynett Jr., and nine grandchildren.

Total deduction from the estate for state tax purposes was $1,347,905.72, leaving a net estate of $1,212,313.07. The state tax was $71,808.18. Federal inheritance taxes, if any, were not shown in the proceeding.

Poles of a magnet always occur in pairs. When a magnet is broken, new poles appear near the break so that each piece contains the same number of poles of each kind, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Dear Abby . . . She Wants Cake!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday was my 46th birthday. My husband gave me a new carpet for the living room and a sofa cover. My son gave me some charms for my bracelet. My husband offered to take me out for dinner, but I refused. I finally opened a few cans, called it dinner and went straight to bed. The big omission was a simple little birthday cake! I have never missed buying my husband and son one on their birthday. Why are men so thoughtless?

SORE

DEAR SORE: Thoughtless? Gifts and an offer of dinner out? Perhaps had you gone out to dinner there would have been a birthday cake awaiting you. What is eating you, Madame? Your complaint takes the cake!

DEAR ABBY: What does one do about parents who do not instruct their children in the proper use of the telephone? I have one family in mind, but I know others, who let their children answer the telephone, "WHO IS THIS?" This irks me terribly. They don't even give you a chance to identify yourself. Once I was almost tempted to say, "It's none of your business. Go get your mother!"

I GIVE UP

DEAR "I": Inadequate parents rarely appreciate criticism of their children's manners. Either risk trying to educate your friends, or learn to tolerate their children's rudeness.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from AGAINST BRACES, and want to tell you that I was "against braces," too, until I started to wear them three years ago. I have made more friends because of my braces. When you meet somebody new and he wears braces, you can always start up a conversation with, "Who is your orthodontist?" You can talk a long time about whose orthodontist is better, how long you have worn braces, and what kind of crooked teeth problem is being corrected. Some of the problems are fascinating! Some kids who have never worn braces ask dumb questions like, "Don't they get in the way when you kiss?" (They don't.) Just sign me — "FOR BRACES"

CONFIDENTIAL TO I. F.: The most important thing a father can do for his children is to love their mother.

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HERE ARE 5 GOOD REASONS WHY I DO ALL MY BANKING AT A FULL SERVICE BANK . . .

1. It is convenient to have my checking account — savings account — Christmas Club and Safe Deposit Box at one bank — no need for me to make 2 or 3 stops to do my banking
2. When I need a loan to buy a car — TV set — refrigerator or just a personal loan, my full service bank lends me the money and at a low rate, with low monthly payments.
3. My full service bank has convenient customer parking — drive-in teller window and soon will enlarge their parking area and open a second drive-in window
4. When I need a home improvement loan to install a new kitchen or add a room or any other home repair, my full service bank lends me the money at low rates for as long as 5 years and with no down payment
5. Most important very few banks can offer you all the services that are available at my full service bank. Why settle for less than the best? If your bank does not offer you all of the services listed — I suggest you switch your account to my full service bank

Regional Planning Group Is Studied

C-H Report Reflects Economic Strength of Mid-Hudson Area

The increasing unification of the Mid-Hudson region as an important economic center is featured in Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's annual report for the year 1963, mailed Monday to its 23,000 stockholders. In the report the company states: "With the increased numbers of bridges spanning the Hudson River, with the expansion of industries with regional interests and with larger numbers of individuals working on one side of the river and residing on the other, there is a growing awareness of the common goals and interests essential to optimum development of the region."

Joins Research Firm

In recognition of these developments and because of the company's broad regional responsibilities, Central Hudson is currently studying with a prominent industrial firm the specific question of whether a broadly based and supported regional plan association would contribute to the optimum development of the Mid-Hudson region while at the same time helping to preserve its scenic and historic values. Such an organization would anticipate participation and financial support of representative segments of Mid-Hudson Valley. The company has retained Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge, Mass., to act as its advisor on matters of community and area development and regional planning.

Central Hudson Board Chairman Ernest R. Acker and President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. noted that: "The text of the Company's Annual Report, and the favorable financial results included in it, reflect the economic strength of the Mid-Hudson region."

Rate of Growth Lower

The annual report notes that Central Hudson's earnings for 1963 year increased for the 15th consecutive year, reaching $1.70 per share as compared with $1.63 for 1962 and net income rose four per cent to $6,703,337. The company's sales and revenues continued their upward trend, although the rate of growth in 1963 was lower than in recent years.

Acker and Sillin note in the report: "Abundant natural resources have helped produce a continuing diversified growth of business and industry within our service area, accompanied by steadily increasing requirements for electricity and natural gas."

They also reported, "Significant progress is being made in the application of advanced equipment to our operations and in the development of better work methods for increasing efficiency, reducing costs and improving the quality of our services—all of which strengthen our competitive position and permit aggressive sales efforts in the energy markets. In view of the favorable business outlook, we believe that the growth trend of our business will improve in 1964."

The utility executives noted, "We welcome our responsibilities as a partner in the progress of the Mid-Hudson region and look forward in the years ahead to playing an active role in furthering its economic development. Our confidence in the future is further evidenced by our planned five-year construction program involving expenditures of $69,300,000."

The annual report illustrates and describes many of the significant industrial, commercial and educational development projects in the Mid-Hudson Valley in 1963, and some of the historical and recreational attractions of the region and features the Hudson River bridge crossings at Poughkeepsie, Kingston and Catskill and the new Newburgh-Beacon bridge.

The annual report shows that the utility's payroll and employee benefits charged to operations reached $8,569,453 in 1963 while $8,822,000 was spent in construction programs and $8,450,790, or over 20 per cent of all revenues from customers, was provided for Federal income and local school and state taxes.

Unemployment May Be Higher Than 4.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department for the first time has published figures indicating that total unemployment may be far higher than the 4.5 million persons shown in latest official statistics.

The new figures, presented to Congress along with President Johnson's report on manpower, include persons "not in the labor force" in addition to the jobless.

"It is the first such set of figures we have been able to get up," said Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Union officials for some time have contended that federal figures do not measure the true extent of unemployment because they list only those actively seeking work.

Union spokesmen have estimated that the real unemployment total may be close to double the official federal figure, when taking into account part-time work by those who want full-time jobs, and discouraged persons who have given up the search for work and do not even show up in the statistics.

While the new Labor Department figures are incomplete, they give an inkling of the situation. They also show that persons with the least education are most heavily represented in the unemployed or "not in the labor force" categories.

The figures show that among white men aged 45 to 54 with four years or less of education, 221 out of every 1,000 are not working. Of these, 84 are listed as unemployed and 137 as not in the labor force.

Among those with college degrees, the corresponding figure shrinks to 39 who are not working, including 10 unemployed and 29 not in the labor force. Wirtz said no breakdown is available on reasons for those not in the labor force. Some, for instance, may be wealthy enough not to work.

Identity Still Sought

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) — Police continued today efforts to identify the body of a young Negro girl who apparently died when she choked while vomiting after suffering a concussion.

The nude body of the youngster, about 3 or 4 years old, was found Sunday on the banks of the Tioga River, three miles south of the Steuben County community of Painted Post.

Police were unable to explain why the girl was nude or how she suffered the concussion.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a breather today after a steady advance had carried it to new peaks.

However, the tone was steady and trading was active.

Some brokers said it was reasonable to expect the market to pause and consolidate gains after a surge that saw the Dow Jones industrial average go through the 800-level.

Most groups of stocks were mixed with changes of key issues mainly fractional. A few wider movers dotted the list.

Motors were weak. Chrysler, whose four-year court battle with stockholders was settled, dropped nearly a point. Ford was off a minor fraction.

Steels were mixed with Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin showing fractional gains and U.S. Steel and Republic taking small losses.

Aluminums were mostly unchanged although three producers joined Alcoa in a price rise. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 299.5 with industrials up .3, rails unchanged and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was off .13 at 807.05.

Rails showed a fairly strong trend with New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Railway and Southern Pacific gaining fractionally.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly mixed in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds declined and governments were unchanged.

MacArthur Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur continued today to make satisfactory progress following his major surgery last Friday.

FLAG BURNING CEREMONY—Junior Girl Scout Troop 54 of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. put their Promise in Action with a Flag Burning Ceremony. The Scouts recently examined their flags and found some were no longer usable. The only proper way to dispose of a worn out American flag is to place it in a clean container and burn it thoroughly, making certain there are no unburned portions, the ashes may then be buried in any suitable location. The Scouts chose this method of demonstrating good citizenship through proper respect to the flag of their country thereby carrying out that part of the Girl Scout Promise which pledges "to do my duty to God and my Country."

Susquehanna Surges Near Flood Levels

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Heavy overnight rains sent the West Branch of the Susquehanna River surging toward dangerous flood levels today.

Schools were closed for the day and many business houses in the city of Lock Haven (pop. 12,000) failed to open.

The Lock Haven Express abandoned plans to publish its afternoon editions. A spokesman said the motor which runs the basement press had been withdrawn to a higher level to avoid water damage.

In Harrisburg, the Federal State River Forecasting Service issued this bulletin:

"Heavy rains overnight are causing sharp rises in entire Susquehanna drainage. Some flooding is likely throughout much of the Susquehanna Basin, but it is too soon for a specific crest forecast as rain is continuing."

It was still raining in Lock Haven and this immediate area at 8:30 a.m.

Nassau Cracks Ring

SEAFORD, N.Y. (AP)—Nassau County police report they have smashed a juvenile burglary ring that allegedly looted more than 100 homes and stores in the past 14 months.

Five boys, all pupils at Seaford High School, were implicated in the ring, which stole an estimated $15,000 in cash and jewelry, police said. The loot reportedly was spent on clothes, good times and a couple of trips to Florida.

The five boys were arrested Monday.

Strikebreaker Vote Doubtful . . .

the Utica newspapers, contended that the "fundamental purpose of the bill is to shut down and keep shut down the operations of any privately owned plant in New York State that does not meet union demands with respect to wages and working conditions, regardless of whether such demands are reasonable."

He said the ITU "wants to handcuff us, to keep us down, then swat us on the head. They want the State of New York to become an ally in clubbing us." Joseph Hellman, president of the Allied Printing Trades Council of New York State, said that in every case in which professional strikebreakers had been used in the state, "the employees were successful in breaking the union."

He suggested that newspaper publishers were responsible, at least in part, for introduction of the strikebreaker bill because, he said, the publishers "have taken full advantage of professional strikebreakers."

Martin P. Catherwood, the state industrial commissioner, spoke in support of the bill. The State Commerce Department had written legislative leaders to urge defeat of the measure on the ground that it would damage the state's business climate.

W. Melvin Street, general manager of the New York State Publishers Association, said newspaper members of the association generally had achieved a "satisfactory record of harmonious relations."

But he said that "in dealing with the International Typographical Union, particularly, and with other unions to a lesser degree, newspapers have acceded to demands and conditions which are onerous, often illegal and usually excessively restrictive, under the threat of strike action."

He called the Curto-Laverne bill a "lead-weighted bludgeon" and said that if it passed, "the newspaper will have been stripped of the only tenuous protection it now has—the right to hire replacements, if it can, to keep publishing."

Rene J. Valentine, assistant to the president of the ITU, said the union had no objection to "any employer in any industry hiring someone to replace an employee on strike."

"We're looking to regulate an agency or group that exists only to provide professional strike-

Report Mrs. Gray Improved, Mishap Was on Monday

The condition of Mrs. Lucy Gray, 45, of Box 192, Woodstock, injured in a two-car head-on collision Monday on Route 375, a half-mile south of Route 212 in Woodstock, was listed as satisfactory today in Kingston Hospital.

She was described in poor condition after her admission into the hospital following the accident shortly before 8 a. m.

Mrs. Gray suffered fractures of the jaw and right ankle and chest bruises. State Police said she was driving north on Rt. 375 when her car collided with a vehicle operated southbound on the same road by Edward Basch, 23, of Box 300, Glasco Turnpike, Woodstock. Basch, who suffered lip and knee cuts, was treated at the hospital and released. A passenger in his car, Fred Cochran, 24, of Overlook Drive, Woodstock, suffered right arm fractures and head cuts. He was reported in fair condition today.

Troopers Robert Houghtaling and William Ruth said the Gray car apparently rounded a curve, ran off the right side of the road, went back onto the pavement and crossed the highway into the path of the Basch vehicle. Basch told the troopers that he stopped his car before the impact when he saw the other vehicle out of control.

The troopers said an arrest was pending.

on clothes, good times and a couple of trips to Florida.

The five boys were arrested Monday.

Charges ANPA

Valentine charged that the American Newspaper Publishers' Association operated an adjunct that provided professional strikebreakers to newspapers. He said the department had been in operation as long ago as 1928.

He said that many of the "same identical people" had been hired as replacements for strikers at newspapers in Westchester County, Little Falls, Herkimer and Lockport in New York State and in Worcester, Mass., and Portland, Ore.

Holding Wrong Stocks May Dim Twilight Years

Q) "We wish to build up a retirement fund for our twilight years together. We are a middle class couple in our mid-fifties, own our own home, have $20,000 in savings, and own the following: Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe; Baldwin-Lima; National Distillers. Are we holding the right stocks?"

A) You seem like a very nice couple, and I hope your retirement will be a pleasant one.

I'm sorry to tell you that you are holding the wrong stocks to achieve your objective. What you should own are strong growth stocks, which can gain in value over the next few years and enhance your capital.

Atchison is a fine stock for income, but it is not a growth issue. The same description applies to National Distillers, Baldwin's earnings probably dropped in 1963, and the dividend does not look secure.

I could switch these stocks into General Foods, Merck & Company, and Procter & Gamble—all of which should help to cushion your retirement. Q) "I am 65 and my wife is 62. Our holdings are 10 shares U. S. Steel, 20 Corn Products, and 20 Columbia Gas. Total savings amount to $2,700. Pension and social security take care of our living needs. Could you tell me wherein we could speculate to acquire sufficient new funds to replace our old car?"

A) I am extremely sorry to tell you I cannot.

I strongly oppose speculation as a means of making quick profits, except where the risk of loss can be fully sustained. Since I don't believe you are in such a position, I feel you should make the old car do for a while longer and hope to build up in value to the point where you can take some profits and buy a new one.

However, I do suggest that you switch your U. S. Steel into EMC Corporation, which I think is in a better position to show you capital appreciation. (Copyright 1964, General Features Corp.)

Times Wins Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are major actions taken Monday by the Supreme Court:

Struck down a $500,000 judgment against the New York Times and four Negro ministers that had been won by a Montgomery, Ala., city official on the basis of an advertisement criticizing handling of racial demonstrations in that city.

Reversed conviction of the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, a Negro, on a charge of interfering with police in Birmingham during a demonstration by freedom riders in 1961.

Would Change Locks, Laws

Mahoney Asks Lobbyists Curb

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A change of door locks and stricter state laws governing lobbyists.

Those were Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney's proposals Monday after a police report confirmed that a lobbyist had keys to Senate offices.

Mahoney made public a letter from State Police Superintendent Arthur Cornelius Jr. naming the lobbyist as Nicholas Kisburg, research director of Teamsters Joint Council 16.

Story Raised Rumpus
Kisburg, had denied publicly that he was the lobbyist whose activities figured in a New York Times story last month.

The story raised a rumpus in the Senate and Mahoney asked the State Police to investigate the circumstances.

While Mahoney made public the Cornelius letter, the senator would not disclose the full police report on the incident. He said much of the report was "largely hearsay and might reflect on innocent people."

The Times story said the lobbyist took a reporter late at night into the Capitol and entered a lawmaker's office, using a key.

Cornelius' letter said the reporter involved was Charles Grutznier of the Times and the office "is not known." However, Cornelius reported, "Kisburg in the past had keys to Room 518, the office of former Senator James Lopez Watson."

Watson, a Manhattan Democrat, resigned from the Senate in January to become a judge of the New York City Civil Court.

Shared Thaler's Office
He had shared the office with Sen. Seymour Thaler, D-Queens.

Thaler now shares the office with Sen. Harry Kraf, D-Bronx. Watson said in New York Monday that he had never given anyone a key to his Senate office to keep or for more than a short time. "I resent the inference," he said.

The report said Kisburg apparently had keys to other lawmakers' offices but did not name the others, Mahoney said.

As a result of the incident, Mahoney said he had ordered that all locks on Senate offices be changed and was instituting a new procedure whereby senators and their aides would have to sign for keys.

The majority leader said he would offer proposals soon "to materially strengthen the laws pertaining to lobbyists." He did not elaborate.

As for Kisburg, Mahoney said there was no sign in the report that any crime had been committed. He told a reporter he planned no action against Kisburg.

Midweek Lenten Services Scheduled by Area Churches

During the Lenten season churches of the area are conducting midweek services of study and meditation. A partial listing follows.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Midweek Lenten service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck Avenue Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

The vesper service will be conducted by senior acolyte, Schoell Trodler. The Rev. Russell B. Greene, pastor will speak on the theme "Who Described the Cross, a study of the conclusion reached by a man who was an unbeliever."

Senior choir under the direction of Mrs. A. Sagatta will sing "Eli, Eli, Save Us." The public may attend all services of St. Paul's.

First Baptist

Midweek Lenten services are held every Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the sanctuary. This week Dr. Charles H. Schmitz, interim pastor, will speak on "Eli, Eli, Save Us."

Members of the board of deacons and deaconesses will participate.

The choir will sing "Thy Will Be Done by Foster, which includes a solo part by Henry Peyer, William A. Fuller will sing "What Will You Do With Jesus?" There will be congregational singing of old familiar hymns.

A nursery is provided for small children.

The public is invited.

Immanuel Lutheran

Wednesday 7:30 p. m. the fifth Lenten service will be held at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Livingston Street at Chestnut.

The pastor, the Rev. Carl J. Goette, will continue the series on characters which played a part in the passion, this time taking "Simon of Cyrene," who carried the cross of Jesus.

The junior choir will sing "Come to Calvary's Holy Mountain and Charles Brand will use Prayer by Abi as a prelude. Offertory by Vierende for the offertory and The Postlude by Dubois. The service will be preceded by a hymn and the regular bi-monthly congregational meeting will be held at the close of the service.

Redeemer Lutheran

The Lenten service on Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will continue the current series of meditations on the Lord's Prayer by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise.

The vesper service, conducted by Dr. Gaise, assisted by Paul W. Anhalt, vicar, together with the traditional passion account and well-known Lenten hymns, will make up the evening worship. Topic for the pastor's meditation will be Give Us Our Daily Bread.

Music for the service will include the anthem "Tarry With Me, O My Saviour" by Baldwin, sung by the senior choir under the direction of Leonard Stine, and accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Robert Meschke who will play the chorale prelude on "Our Father" by J. S. Bach.

Following the service a fellowship period will be provided in the assembly room. In addition to refreshments a film will be presented showing the influence of the Bible on the stamps of various world powers. After the service the senior choir will rehearse in the chancel.

Clinton Ave. Church

The fifth Lenten service will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church school assembly room.

The commission on membership and evangelism will have charge of the devotion with the following persons participating: Harold Metcalf will preside; Harold Francis will give the prayer; Mrs. Wesley Winchell will read the Scripture; Floyd Wilber will give the offertory prayer. Mrs. Robert Gaines will be soloist and Mrs. Reginald Edwards, pianist.

Meditation will be given by the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, pastor.

Comforter Reformed

The fifth in a series of midweek Lenten services will be held at the Comforter Church of the Comforter, Thursday, 7:30 p. m. The senior choir will sing, and a meditation entitled, "I Am Thirsty" will be brought by the Rev. Patrick R. Vostello, pastor.

Ellenville Reformed

The Rev. John Mulenburgh, missionary to the Philippine Islands will speak at the midweek Lenten service of the Ellenville Reformed Church Wednesday 7:30 p. m. A covered dish supper will be held at 6 p. m.

Shokan Reformed

Special Lenten services are held every Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Shokan Reformed Church. Special music is arranged for each service. The pastor, the Rev. O. Phillips, is preaching a series of sermons on the Cross of Christ and its purpose and place in national life. The service is informal and the church consistory extend an invitation to the public.

Woodstock Lutheran

Services will be held at Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock Thursday 7:30 p. m. with the pastor, the Rev. Norman C. Krapf in charge.

W. Camp Lutheran

The midweek Lenten vesper service at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp will be held Wednesday 8 p. m.

Fair St., Old Dutch

REV. F. MORGAN ROBERTS

Wednesday evening the congregations of the Fair Street Church and the Old Dutch Church will meet together in the Parish Room of the Fair Street Church at 6:15 p. m. for this week's Lenten midweek fellowship supper. This is the second joint meeting of the season between the churches.

The speaker will be the Rev. F. Morgan Roberts, presently serving as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Mount Vernon. The Rev. Mr. Roberts, a minister in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., will speak on the general topic, "The Larger Union, in keeping with the first speaker at the Old Dutch Church who discussed with the two congregations the possibility of union between the Southern Presbyterian and Reformed churches."

The Rev. Mr. Roberts was educated at Colgate University, the National University of Mexico, and Princeton Theological Seminary. Following his ordination to the Presbyterian ministry in 1953, he became pastor of the Union Church of Newburgh.

While there, he served on various community agencies. He was a member of the advisory board of Planned Parenthood of Orange County, was Protestant chaplain at St. Luke's Hospital, served as a member of the local Selective Service Board, president of the Ministerial Association and board member of the McQuade Foundation and National Temple Hill Association.

The speaker for the evening has served on the Synod of New York Preaching Mission to Puerto Rico and has appeared as the guest preacher at the Cadet Chapel in West Point. The Rev. Mr. Roberts also appeared on television in the controversial NBC Whitepaper No. 9 program, "The Battle of Newburgh," speaking as an opponent to the Mitchell Reforms. Presently he serves as chairman of church extension of the Presbytery of Hudson River and as member of that same body's General Council and Commission of Religion and Race.

The supper will be informal. Those attending will bring covered dishes. The main meat course, rolls, coffee, milk and dessert are provided. A separate program has been planned for the small children.

Trinity Lutheran
Trinity Lutheran, Spring and Hone Streets, the Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor, will hold the fifth in a series of Lenten services Wednesday 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Frenssen speaking on the topic "Love's Call: Take Your Stand!"

The musical program by Mrs. C. Beecher Jr., minister of music will include Bible Poems; Ballad by Karg Elert; and a choir selection "Go to Dark Gethsemane."

Immediately following the service there will be a rehearsal of the church choir. The Rev. Mr. Frenssen will conduct a group meeting on the meaning of prayer.

Franklin St. AME

Wednesday the Franklin Street African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church will observe a union service with the River View Missionary Baptist Church. The Rev. John H. Gilmore, interim pastor of the River View Baptist Church will deliver the evening meditation. The public may attend.

Death Makes Change
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Death filed for the prosecution at General Hospital.

Police filed first-degree manslaughter charges against Robert Gadson, 42, after Robert Mason, 36, died of knife wounds.

Gadson and Mason wounded each other in a knife fight Feb. 29 and happened to be placed in the same hospital ward, police said. The men patched up their quarrel and agreed not to place charges against each other.

Gadson was released from the hospital, but Mason died Monday morning.

Town, Village Courts Practice Measure Filed

A bill to provide uniform civil and criminal practice and procedure in all town and village courts sponsored by the Judicial Conference has been introduced in the Legislature for study. The bill was the result of work of an advisory committee appointed by Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond and the staff of the Judicial Conference.

The new practice act would be known as the Justice Court Act and conforms to the present Uniform District Court Act, and also to the Uniform City Court Act which is now pending in the Legislature. In addition, these three court acts are integrated with the new Civil Practice Law and Rules. This is the link required to unify all the courts through use of a common procedural code.

In making the announcement, Thomas F. McCoy, state administrator said:

"The town and village courts have been operating under an act, the Justice Court Act, which has remained substantially unchanged since its enactment in 1920. Practice in town and village courts has been governed by this act and numerous other special statutes and general laws. In keeping with one of the main objectives of court reorganization, i. e. providing uniform practice and procedure in all the courts of the state, the Uniform Justice Court Act was drafted and has been introduced in the 1964 Legislative Session for study purposes. It provides substantial procedural improvements over its predecessor and does so in less than 150 sections compared to the over 500 sections of the Justice Court Act. Like the Uniform City Court Act and the Uniform District Court Act, the new act relies heavily on the Civil Practice Law and Rules and incorporates by reference many of its sections. For the first time, the bench and the bar will find that practice in all the courts of the State is based upon a set of uniform statutes containing the same basic format and numbering system. Knowledge of the practice in any of the lower courts could be utilized throughout the court system if the Uniform Justice Act and the Uniform City Court Act are enacted.

Pleads Guilty in Shooting
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A 16-year-old white youth has pleaded guilty to second-degree manslaughter in the shooting of a Negro boy during racial disorders last fall.

Michael Lee Farley, was sentenced Monday to seven months in jail. A companion, Larry Joe Sims, 17, received a similar sentence after a week-long trial in January. Both applied for probation.

Report Pakistan Raids
JAMMU, Kashmir (AP)—Two Indians were killed and at least seven others injured in an exchange of fire across the cease-fire line 50 miles west of Jammu town Sunday night, official sources said Monday.

They said Pakistan army units made two raids within five hours of each other at Nava Chak village.

More than 225 Attend Pack 26 Blue, Gold Dinner

Cub Scout Pack 26 had more than 225 Cubs, parents and friends attending their colorful and gala blue and gold banquet held recently at Port Ewen Reformed Church Hall. The Cubs and Denmothers made all decorations and table settings.

Cubmaster Fred Kirk welcomed all to the 54th birthday party for Scouting. The Rev. Ronald Lokhorst, of the host church gave the invocation, with the blessing by the Rev. Cecil McFarland of Port Ewen Methodist Church. A potluck dinner was served by the committee and denmothers.

Webelos Den with Assistant Cubmaster Webelos Leader Ronald Latz Sr., and Webelos Cubmaster Fred Kirk led the ceremony on the Scout Law. Cubmaster Kirk read a short story on a boy (George Washington) and his mother.

Commissioner Robert Tremper, guest of the pack, led those assembled in singing.

Award ceremony with Akela (Cubmaster Kirk) and two braves (Cubs Kevin Kirk and Delton Pritchard) assisting at the steaming awards pot, the kerkchief of Cub Scouting was pulled from the magic pot. The colors of Cub Scouting for truth and loyalty, Gold for warm sunlight, happiness, and cheer were explained by Akela. A scouting tripod was demonstrated by Akela whereby the Cub, mother and father must work together in order to have the Cubbing program work for them.

The following awards were pulled from the steaming pot by Akela and given out by Awards Chairman Burt Ellis:

Bobcat Pins were given to Gary Galewiler, Burt Ellis Jr. and Jeffrey Carlson. Wolf Badge to Martin Jordan. Gold Arrow under Wolf went to Jeffrey Soura, Martin Jordan, Kevin Johnson, and Robert Hayes. Bear Badge to Ronald Latz Jr. Gold Arrow under Bear to Matthew Granitto and Gary Piccoli. Silver arrow under Bear to Delton

Pritchard, and two arrows to Thomas Fisher. Lion Badge to Gary Piccoli. Gold arrow and 2 Silver arrows under Lion to Kendall Windram. Assistant Cubmaster and Scoutmaster Ronald Latz Sr., conducted the Webelos graduation ceremony for Ronald Oskay who has completed his cubbing and joined Troop 26. He was presented the troop kerkchief by Webelos Denchief Churchill. Assistant Denner strip went to Gary Piccoli, and two-year service stars went to Eugene Sass and James Sass, and also to their mother Jean Sass who has been assistant den mother for the same number of years.

All leaders of the pack were called to the stage for recognition and to witness the tying of the recently won Scout Spectacular Ribbons to the flagstaff — third place ribbon for booth, first for the Wild West Show and the Grand Champion ribbon, the pack's third in a row.

Parent attendance flag went to Den 4—Francis Giles, denmother and Doris West, assistant denmother. Closing ceremony was by Den 2—Wilma Lemister, denmother and Jean Sass, assistant denmother had the Cubs of the den placing feathers into the headdress of a life-size Indian. Each feather represented a phase of scouting. Movies were shown by Harrison Cornish.

Woman Convinces Convict to Quit, Has Hectic Time

MUNITH, Mich. (AP) — "I never talked so much in my life," said Marian Poxson, 48-year-old housewife, after she persuaded an escaped convict to surrender.

"I talked to him like he was my son," she said. "He needed help."

Mrs. Poxson, a small, plumpish woman, talked convicted forger Lester B. Dionne, 35, into giving himself up after a hectic frightening period Monday.

Police described Mrs. Poxson as a heroine.

A threatened kidnaping, two home break-ins, and a high-speed auto ride with Mrs. Poxson at the wheel praying for police interception figured in the series of events.

A state police alarm was out. Road blocks were up.

"An unusual woman," said Gus Harrison, state corrections commissioner, after Mrs. Poxson marched Dionne into his office, climaxing six tense hours.

Dionne was a fugitive from a southern Michigan state prison farm.

Christmas in Autumn?

NEW YORK (AP)—Where would we be today without Leap Year?

In February 1964, we'd be November 1963, say watchmakers of Switzerland. They've taken a booth at the New York World's Fair Swiss Pavilion to point out fascinating oddities of time.

Leap Year was set up by astronomers appointed by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 because the earth takes approximately 365 and one-quarter days to revolve around the sun. Without that day every four years to even things out, the watchmakers say, by now we'd have Christmas as the leaves start to turn color and Labor Day in the spring.

GETS A GIFT A YEAR AHEAD OF TIME

Q: What does one do when a friend sends a 25th wedding anniversary present a year ahead of time? My husband and I received such a present from a friend yesterday. Should I return the gift with a note telling her of my mistake or thank her for it and tell her will keep it until next year?

A: Write a note thanking her for the present and add that your 25th anniversary is not until next year but that you are very glad she made the mistake because now you can enjoy her lovely gift a whole year ahead of time.

Inviting Boy to School Dance

Q: When a girl invites a boy to her school prom is she expected to pay all the expenses of the evening, such as transportation, refreshments, etc., in addition to paying for the tickets? Some of my friends feel that since she is the hostess and he her guest, she is responsible for the entire evening.

A: She pays for the tickets and he provides for their transportation and for any refreshments he may invite her to have after the dance.

Returning Presents

Q: I have broken my engagement and I would like to know what to do with presents I received from my fiancé's family and friends. Should I return them to him so that he may dispose of them, or is it up to me to return them?

A: It is up to you to return each present to its giver with a note of explanation.

Winter Series Will Present Frey Lecture

A prominent Woodstock personality, Miss Berta Frey, will be presented at the Kleinfert Gallery by the Woodstock Guild and Festival Committee, Sunday, March 15 at 3 p. m., as their third speaker of the current Winter Series.

Miss Frey is a noted handweaver, lecturer and author of Designing and Drafting for Handweavers and Seven Projects in Rosepath. She is a resident of Bearsville where she busily instructs weaving classes weekly. Her summers usually include teaching at the Fletcher Art School in Ludlow, Vermont.

Her talk Sunday is not on techniques in weaving as one might think, Miss Frey's hobby is collecting samples of handwoven articles from all parts of the world. Her talk will be about these magnificent textiles and the history behind many of these beautiful fabrics; some of them quite humorous. Did you know that when a woman marries in Rumania she then must wear two handwoven aprons instead of one? One in front and one in back. I'm sure it isn't because she doesn't dust her chairs and I doubt very much it's because her husband gives her a faithful boot in the rear when he arrives home from work. Say—Ladies what do you think about this one? In Bali, the husband ties a little bell to his wife's loom (which he has built for her) and in doing so can tell how fast his spouse is throwing the shuttle. There's a "Bali-ache" for you! And in Finland the young couple being married must stand on the specially handwoven Marriage Rug to take their vows. The rug then becomes their blanket. No comment.

Busy Lecturer

You're sure to have a marvelously enlightening afternoon listening to Miss Frey's interesting discussion and you will learn that there is much more to textiles than just the threads. Once you start unraveling the cloth you will find much history and tradition behind the handweaving of countries throughout the world.

Miss Frey's past history certainly merits mention. Her career and talents are well known for she has lectured in 37 of our 50 states.

Born and raised in Texas, Miss Frey attended Texas University, then Kansas State Teachers College and New York University. She was an Occupational Therapist in the U.S. Army and this is where weaving was introduced into her career.

She has woven for Interior Decorators in New York and fabrics for wearing apparel in Washington, D. C. Her textiles are shown in the Metropolitan and Cooper Union Museums in New York City.

Her weaving has been prized in both National and Regional Competitions. . . GAIL JENNINGS.

Rebekahs Slate Big Card Party At Lodge Hall

Agapae Rebekah Lodge No. 623 will sponsor a card party to night at 8 o'clock at the Bearsville Lodge Hall. The card committee will be Mrs. Anna M. Ostrander, Mrs. Alice Van Vorst and Mrs. Evelyn Rossman. Miss Florence Peper will be in charge of tickets.

At the regular meeting of the lodge, Mrs. Edna N. Cole, Past Noble Grand was elected the regular delegate and Mrs. Waleah Cashdollar, Past Noble Grand was elected the proxy delegate to attend the sessions of the annual New York State Rebekah Assembly to be held in Elmira in May.

At the next meeting on March 18, Sener Ozer, foreign exchange student, Ontario Central Schools, will be present and speak and show slides on his native country.

Plan Easter Sale

Also, after the next meeting, the annual Easter sale will be held. Members are asked to bring donations of food, fancy articles or miscellaneous articles for this sale. Mrs. Margaret Schilz will be in charge of the fancy table; Mrs. Waleah Cashdollar, food table and Mrs. Ann Cousins, the miscellaneous table.

Members are asked to bring a covered dish for refreshments for this meeting.

The members of the Wil-La-Shay Club have been invited to attend this meeting to hear Sener Ozer.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna M. Ostrander, Mrs. Alice Van Vorst and Mrs. Evelyn Rossman.

Auxiliary Hears Several Reports

Monthly reports were given by the various standing committee chairmen at the regular meeting of Woodstock American Legion Auxiliary 1026 at which Mrs. Magda Moseman, the auxiliary president, presided.

The reports were as follows: Cancer control: White goods and nylons presented to the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Group.

Child Welfare: Used clothing donated to a veterans and a non-veterans families.

Education and Scholarship: A copy of "Need A Lift" presented to the Guidance office, Ontario Central Schools, Boiceville.

Poppies: Poppies to be ordered for the annual sale on "Poppy Day" to be announced later.

Donations were made to the Leonard Wood Memorial and also, Memorial Hospital, New York City.

A gift of money will be presented to the Woodstock American Legion Post for their birthday which is this month.

It was announced that the annual magazine subscription drive sponsored by the Ulster County American Legion Auxiliary will start this week in the township. The funds derived from this subscription drive are used to buy hospital and loan closet equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, walkers, crutches and etc. for use of individuals while sick. Anyone wishing to borrow such an article may contact any member of the Woodstock American Legion Auxiliary 1026 or Mrs. Magda Moseman, president of the Auxiliary.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by Mrs. Jean Baumgarten.

'Sister' Convinces Maryknoll Bandits

MARYKNOLL, N.Y. (AP) — Disguised as a Catholic nun, Frances Anderson, a deputy sheriff, waited alone in the Maryknoll Seminary's post office for the holdup gang.

"I was nervous," said Mrs. Anderson, mother of two. "I never had to do anything like this before."

Played Role to Hilt

Her role Monday was to convince the bandits that everything was normal at the tranquil Roman Catholic seminary. Hidden elsewhere in the post office, in the building across the drive and around the wooded landscape were more than three dozen policemen.

"I was sorting mail," Mrs. Anderson said, "when a voice said, 'Would someone help me?' He wanted a sheet of 6-cent stamps and I had to go to the file for them. When I came back, there was a gun pointing at me."

"Don't be frightened, sister," the gunman said. "Just stand still and nobody will get hurt." A second man went through the safe and three cash drawers. The first asked, "Where are the other sisters?" "They're attending a special Mass," Mrs. Anderson told him.

Area Staked Out

The men ordered her into a rear room. "I soon heard the sound of the bullhorn, then shots and I fell to the floor and stayed there until it was over," she said.

The police, staked out after a tip in New York City that the holdup was planned, had sprung the trap.

"You're surrounded," boomed the bullhorn as the men loaded mail bags with $50,000 in cash and stamps into their car.

"Drop your guns. Surrender." The bandits shot toward the voice. Police returned the fire as the car sped down the drive. More than 60 shots were fired. The car spun off the drive.

Three men, all wounded, were captured. Five guns were found in the bullet-riddled car.

A fourth man, apparently the lookout, slipped around the back of the post office during the fight and escaped into the woods near Ossining, 25 miles north of New York City. Police said he also may have been injured.

She Takes $16,500

NEW YORK (AP) — Esther James, 67-year-old Harlem widow who won a $211,739 libel verdict against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., D-N.Y., will accept the reduced amount of $16,500 set by an appellate court, her lawyer announced Monday.

A State Supreme Court jury awarded the $211,739 to Mrs. James on April 5, 1963, because the Negro congressman in a television interview called her a "bag woman" (graft collector) for the police department.

The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court called the verdict excessive and set the lower amount.

With one dissenting vote, incumbent Willard C. Drumm of Niverville was named for assemblyman. Others endorsed are R. Waldron Herzberg of Hudson for surrogate; Miss Mary McKenna of Hudson for county treasurer; Warren Zittel of Copake for district attorney and Newton R. Watts, Chatham, coroner.

Doctor Attackers Seized

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Two men, accused of forcing their way into the home of a doctor at knifepoint, severely beating the physician and robbing him of $1,500, have been arrested after the doctor made a police line-up identification of them, police say.

Vincent E. Quagliano, 23, of Kenmore, and John Catanzaro, 21, of Buffalo, each were charged with first-degree robbery, first-degree burglary and first-degree grand larceny.

The men are accused of attacking Dr. Ira C. Wollen at his home Feb. 10.

Some Problems Diminish, But— War in Viet Nam Is Thorn To Johnson Administration

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the problems taking up President Johnson's time, like jobs and poverty, bear testimony that world tensions have diminished a bit.

This may not last long, of course, since mankind still does not have enough sense to live in peace, more or less, indefinitely.

Johnson does have some unpeaceful problems to worry about, like how to win in Viet Nam. But to many Americans largely concerned with themselves, at the moment the war against Communist guerrillas in Asia must seem far off.

Yet, even some of the crises that poured over Johnson like a tide in his first 100 days have subsided.

Fidel Castro is left with his feet in the water he shut off from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo; and Panamanians have become patient about a revision of American treaty rights to the Panama Canal Zone.

It was in the midst of this comparative quietude that Johnson announced Monday a national manpower policy intended to cut down high unemployment which, he noted, averaged 4.2 million last year.

He will soon send Congress a message about eliminating poverty, or trying to. Some advisers recommend the draft registration be lowered to give his war on poverty an early start on rehabilitating needy youth.

All this—plus Americans' preoccupation with the presidential primary in New Hampshire today or with getting ready for fishing, baseball or Easter—makes this seem an almost tranquil time.

But not quite, even though the dirty little war in Viet Nam is far away. It is not only far from finished but the South Vietnamese, despite American backing, have been losing their shirts steadily.

The United States isn't fighting the war itself. The South Vietnamese are doing it with the help of American money, supplies, weapons and military men to teach them how to do it.

In a general way the American approach to this war is similar to that of the French who fought the Communists there themselves for eight years with their own troops, plus Vietnamese troops.

Both big powers stopped far short of an all-out effort.

The colonial-minded French, too stubborn to look at the clock and give the Vietnamese independence until the last minute, fought the North Vietnamese Reds with one hand behind their backs.

They never sent their draftees into that war. In the later stages of it they didn't even pay their own way. The United States had to bail them out for years.

By the time they were crushed and had to quit in 1954 the United States was paying three-quarters of the costs.

While this country wants to see the South Vietnamese win, and has promised to back them so long as they are willing to fight, there is no mood in this country for any kind of all-out war on the Reds of North Viet Nam.

For instance: by carrying the war to North Viet Nam or throwing American troops directly into the battle. Anything like that might bring Red China or the Soviet Union in on the side of the North Vietnamese.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is over there now, on his second inspection trip since December, to see what he thinks needs to be done to reverse the defeats being inflicted on the South Vietnamese.

One of the big troubles, no matter how Americans might wish they could get out of South Viet Nam altogether, is that American prestige is at stake.

White House Starts Its Air Conditioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has been turning out White House lights to economize, but he didn't stint on the electricity Monday.

When the temperature rose to 80, the White House turned on its air conditioning.

It was pleasantly cool for some 400 youngsters entertained in the presidential mansion at an afternoon concert by guitarist Charlie Byrd.

This country went in there to crush the Red guerrillas.

If it quits or withdraws all of Southeast Asia looks like a push-over for communism. Yet, Johnson and McNamara have to wonder: how long can the United States keep this up if the South Vietnamese themselves won't do a better job of fighting?

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, March 10th, the 70th day of 1964. There are 296 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1628, physicist Marcello Malpighi was born in Italy. He was the founder of microscopic anatomy and the first to prove the existence of capillary circulation.

On this date:

In 1785, Thomas Jefferson was appointed U.S. minister to England to replace Benjamin Franklin.

In 1864, Ulysses S. Grant was made commander-in-chief of the Union Army in the war between the states.

In 1906, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching was incorporated.

In 1941, France ceded Indo-China to Thailand.

In 1952, former President Batista ousted President Carlos Prío Socarras of Cuba in a coup d'état in which two guards were killed and one wounded.

Ten years ago—President Eisenhower pledged not to involve the United States in war without a declaration of war by Congress.

Five years ago—America's X-15 rocket plane underwent its first test over the California desert.

One year ago—UN Secretary-General U Thant began a special campaign to collect overdue assessments for UN forces in the Congo and Middle East.

Against Removal Of Air Service

Object has been filed with the Federal Aviation Agency to its plans to discontinue flight service at the Dutchess County Airport by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), who said Sunday he intends to set up a meeting in Washington with the FAA representatives.

Congressman Wharton said he is planning the session "since some constituents have expressed a desire to appear or file a statement as to their views, all in opposition, of course, to the proposed discontinuance of service."

The Dutchess Airport is one of 43 in the nation scheduled for removal of personnel in a consolidation move. The FAA has made known. Under the program, the Dutchess Airport service would be removed to Teterboro, N. J. Objections promptly were raised in Dutchess County that such a move would be detrimental to area air traffic.

Congressman Wharton has made public a letter he received from the U. S. Weather Bureau in answer to inquiries concerning what would become of the Weather Service Station which has been maintained for years at New Hackensack by the FAA staff.

Robert M. White, chief of the Weather Bureau, noted that under the FAA proposal, all staff personnel will be removed from the airport station in Dutchess County. He informed Congressman Wharton that "it will be necessary for us to look for another cooperater when the FAA is ready to withdraw its personnel."

To Remember Friends

DENVER (AP)—Truman and Elizabeth Jones of Denver and Mike and Kathy Livada of New Orleans, La., can expect $50 gifts next Christmas.

In the years thereafter they'll get only Christmas cards from the late Isa Simmons as specified in her will.

Mrs. Simmons, who died Feb. 3, named two executors of her $3,500 estate. They are directed to use the money to mail out gifts and Christmas cards annually to 10 friends of Mrs. Simmons as long as they live.

White House Births

During the administration of President Andrew Jackson, three children were born in the White House to the president's hostess, Emily Donelson, a record to date.

YMCA Schedules Tenth Annual Communion Rites

The tenth annual Communion service of Kingston Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Good Friday, March 27 at 8 a. m. in YMCA lobby. It was announced by executive secretary Louis H. Schafer.

The Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will preside. His meditation will be: "In Quiet Places Apart." The service is for members of the board of directors, trustees and key members of the YMCA. The lobby will be appropriately set up with large tables in the form of a cross. The tables will be covered with white cloths symbolic of the feast. Twelve white candles, and white lilies will be placed on the cross. At the head of the cross will be stationed the presiding pastor. Behind him in a semi-circle will be large palms enclosing the head of the cross. The men will be seated around the cross and so arranged to have equal balance on both sides. Throughout the service Sam Scudder will be at the piano, Leon I. Van Heusen and Charles H. Sims, Y associate secretaries will act as ushers.

Much Sunshine

The climate of Puerto Rico attracts 400,000 visitors each year. Here the sun shines 360 days a year and temperatures average 76 degrees Fahrenheit, with only a 6-degree variation between winter and summer.

Indecision Hangs Over Primary Outcome

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—A cloud of indecision which could have a telling effect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of Tuesday's New Hampshire primary. There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls Tuesday to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, partisans thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might come up to challenge them.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS
FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins, yet still feel tired—you may need more than vitamins to restore your normal strength and energy. Check with your doctor. He may tell you that your worn-out feeling can be due to a shortage of iron.

Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because GERITOL not only contains 7 vitamins but, in addition, supplies the amount of iron needed to build iron-rich red blood. Just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid, contain twice the iron in a pound of calves' liver! Seven times the iron in a pound of spinach! It is this rich source of iron that makes GERITOL such an effective strength-building tonic. In only one day, GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream beginning to carry strength and energy to every part of your body!

Proved By Medical Tests!

Patients diagnosed with iron-deficiency frequently were pale, nervous, irritable and easily tired. After patients took GERITOL daily, doctors reported definite clinical improvement. Remember, vitamins alone can't do it! But GERITOL, with its rich source of iron, can help you regain your strength and energy.

Check with your doctor and if iron-poor blood is your problem, you should take fast-acting GERITOL every day. Feel stronger fast—in just 7 days—or your money back from the maker. Get high-potency GERITOL, liquid or tablets, today!

St. Mary's Juniors Capture Beacon Invitational Title

Add New Crown To CYO Upstate By 65-52 Edge

St. Mary's Juniors of Kingston, newly-crowned Upstate CYO Junior champions, added another crown by trouncing arch rival, St. John's of Beacon, 65-52, in the finals of the annual Beacon Invitational Tournament.

A big first half margin (31-18) powered St. Mary's to the impressive victory, even though the locals were outscored from the field, 25-24. Seventeen free throw conversions were vital factors. St. John's scored 50 of their 52 points from the field.

Bruce Ackert, who played a sensational defensive game in the Upstate CYO finals against Regina Coeli of Hyde Park, was high scorer with 20 points, Vince Fisher, the great right bower of the highly successful 1963-64 campaign, and Tony Toney each bagged 16 points, with Fisher converting eight free throws. Vic Oleschuk (7) and Jim Williams (6) shared the other 21 points.

Russ Smith (21) and Jim Kosher (20) accounted for the bulk of the St. John's scoring.

Strong Second Half
The home eagles rallied to hold St. Mary's even after the disastrous first half and reduced St. Mary's margin to six points early in the fourth period. Smith and Kosher tossed in a series of baskets before St. Mary's stemmed the tide and regained the offensive to win going away.

The tournament loss was the first in five years for the Beacon quintet which easily handled St. Mary's last season.

At the conclusion of the game, a beautiful team trophy was presented to Coach Frank Casciaro in behalf of St. Mary's team. Individual trophies were presented to the players.

An interesting sidelight of the tournament was the inability of the referee to select the Most Valuable Player. He chose two St. Mary's players—Ackert and Fisher—and the two received identical awards.

Three Clubs Set For Playoff Tilts
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The lineup for the Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Association will be San Francisco, St. Louis and Los Angeles, but not necessarily in that order.

The Lakers assured themselves of third place and a spot in the playoffs with their 122-112 victory Monday night over Baltimore but the race for first is still wide open.

San Francisco, now on top, leads St. Louis by only one game. A combination of a San Francisco loss to Baltimore Tuesday night and a St. Louis victory over New York would tie up the Western Division lead.

The weary Bullets, playing their fifth game in six days, faltered before the torrid Lakers shooting attack. Jerry West had 37 points, the Lakers and Elgin Baylor scored 24, Terry Dischinger got 20 for Baltimore.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (NEA) — Sophomore Chris Pardee set a Harvard mark in the high jump when he cleared 6 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Soph. Walt Hewlett turned in a 9:02.5 in his first varsity effort in the two mile.

Stagg's Condition Is Still Serious
STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Football's grand old man, Amos Alonzo Stagg, took breakfast and dinner by mouth Monday but remained in serious condition from uremic poisoning and general deterioration after his 101 years.

Spokesmen for Hillhaven Convalescent Home said his temperature, pulse and blood pressure had returned to normal after a weekend flareup.

Until this illness, Stagg was up and around daily. He retired only three years ago after becoming the only man honored as both player and coach in football's Hall of Fame.

Triller-Thayer Bridge Winners
Mrs. Eleanor Triller of Poughkeepsie and Harry Thayer, Kingston, combined their bridge talents for a 63 1/2 per cent win on the East-West side of the Glenier Bridge Club's Fractional point tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara led the North-South contingent with 60 per cent. Twenty-four boards played in a Mitchell movement.

Runnersup were: North-South: Mrs. Harold Rakov, Kingston, and Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, 59 per cent; Mrs. Marjorie Black, Phoenix, and Walter Daumann, Pine Hills, 58 1/2 per cent; Robert Yallum and Jay Melton, Kingston, 57 1/2 per cent.

East-West: Ralph Wessellman, Shokan, and Henry Berleth, Woodstock, 59 1/2 per cent; Robert L. Blanc and Don Meserlian, Kingston, 58 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre, Hurley, 50 per cent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Bouton Gets Sign Or Else Decree

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — The Bulldog, it appears, is in the doghouse. And this particular doghouse threatens to get dog-gone expensive.

"It looks like they've got me over the barrel," Bulldog Jim Bouton ruefully admitted at his home here after he had been handed a sign-or-else decree from New York Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk.

The or-else is a $100 a day fine, starting midnight Wednesday, for each day the brash young right-hander is absent from the Yankee training camp.

"I'll probably have to give in," Bouton said. "But I'm going to check thoroughly first to see if I have any recourse. I think this is grossly unfair."

The timing was a little unpleasant, too. Bouton got the ultimatum on his 25th birthday, Sunday night, in a telephone call from Houk. The Yank GM didn't make the news public until a news conference in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Monday.

"I don't think the club can give him what he demands and still be fair in its dealings with other members of the team," Houk said.

"I probably won't make a decision until the deadline," said Bouton, dubbed the Bulldog by his teammates because of his fierce competitive spirit.

Last season Bouton was the Yankees' top right-hander and one of the American League's five 20-game winners. He was 21-7 and led the club in earned run average at 2.53, fourth in the league.

For this he received $10,000. For 1964 he wants $20,000, a 100 per cent increase.

The Yankees offered a 60 per cent increase, or about $16,000. Then they offered an 80 per cent increase, or about $18,000.

Bout Postponed
MONTREAL (AP) — The scheduled bout here between Sugar Ray Robinson and Joey Durelle has been postponed to March 23.

Robinson, 43, the former world middleweight champion, said last week he needed more time to condition himself, and Montreal promoter Regis Levesque put the fight off.

Cotton, Persol To Meet Friday
NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Cotton, having shaken off a flu bug that plagued him three weeks ago, gets a chance to shake up unbeaten Johnny Persol's new image Friday night when the light heavyweight contenders square off in a 10-round rematch at Madison Square Garden.

Persol, a 23-year-old New Yorker, vaulted from near obscurity to the No. 2 spot on the World Boxing Association light heavy list via a split decision over the top-ranked Cotton in the Garden Feb. 21. Cotton now is ranked third contender.

But Cotton, a 17-year campaigner, and his manager, George Chermers, felt Eddie deserved the nod despite being slowed by a virus. The Seattle veteran is healthy again and has trained hard for the return.

Persol survived a sixth-round knockdown — he claims it was a "pushdown" — and ran his pro victory string to 11. He had taken 85 straight amateur fights. Johnny is an early 8-5 voice to repeat over the 37-year-old Cotton, who takes a 50-15-1 slate into the rematch.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers and the International League Al-Star Team will play baseball in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium July 30.

Contract Bridge Here to Stay

By Charles J. Tiano (Freeman Sports Editor)
Hi, Laddie!
As you know this is a quaint Scottish greeting.

Laddie is also I. H. Wheatcroft, local contract bridge entrepreneur.

One day we let Laddie boy stick his foot in the sports (department) door. We can't say it was a mistake. Just let's say it has had far reaching effects.

Since then we have been depressed upon by bridge scores in volumes matching locusts in the Biblical plagues. Not that bridge playing is a plague. It's both a pleasure and a habit, an insidious habit for some, a mania for others and the grand passion for still others.

Since then we have been depressed upon by bridge scores in volumes matching locusts in the Biblical plagues. Not that bridge playing is a plague. It's both a pleasure and a habit, an insidious habit for some, a mania for others and the grand passion for still others.

There are bridge clubs all over the landscape and the North-South and East-West terminology is becoming as familiar to local sports page readers as bases on balls, point after touchdown, field goal, etc.

Is it a passing fancy? We doubt it. Bridge is here to (stay) and like other sports it has undergone an evolution in style, technique, attitudes. Just like thousands of people playing golf today wouldn't have been seen near a golf course two decades ago, so it is with bridge.

Of Men and Mice
Billy Costello was among those who saw Luther Lassiter retain his world pocket billiard championship Sunday at the Commodore Hotel in New York. After spending several days at the tournament, we came to the conclusion that at least four of the 14 players were not much better, if at all, than either Billy or Charlie Sangaline. But neither will ever get a chance to compete in the regional eliminations. Buster Ferraro joins the Billiard Proprietors Association. There are politics involved in billiards probably more so than any other professional sport. The tournament's subservience to television cameras was reflected in a two-hour wait between the end of the semi-finals and the Lassiter-Cranfield finale. A thirty-minute delay was announced to give ABC's camera crews a chance to set up their equipment. It stretched into two hours. The crowd grew restless, impatient, then mean. Lassiter and Cranfield played under the most exasperating conditions. There was constant heckling of the TV crews whose cameras blocked the view of many spectators who had paid $5.00 a head to see the action.

It was a miracle that a full scale riot was averted. Singer Johnny Johnson, who did the commentary for the TV, made an impassioned plea to the crowd to keep quiet and give the players a chance. Cranfield, an extremely nervous type, blew up under the pressure.

The tournament proved several things: pocket billiards is growing rapidly. Next year's tournament needs larger and better spectator facilities, a more realistic schedule and more and tighter elimination play. The field of 14 is too big and unwieldy. This year's championships, a financial success, left the taste of the old pool hall in too many mouths.

Seeks White House Action
Debacle in Winter Olympics Prompts Action by Humphrey

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey has suggested the appointment of a White House commission on sports to assay America's weak showing in the recent Winter Olympics.

Included was a massive program to build Olympic-type sports facilities in all parts of the country to train future competitors.

Hearing rumors that some lawmakers thought this inadequate, the peeping reporter borrowed Floyd Patterson's false moustache and beard and set about eavesdropping in an exclusive Washington club where representatives speak only to senators and senators only speak.

Sure enough, the round-table Olympics. Listen: Rep. Tee: "I'm in favor of Humphrey's program. Why there isn't a downhill or slalom course in Texas, big as it is. We should have at least five or six."

Rep. Eff: "And what about Florida? We have all those water skiers. With proper facilities, we could train them to win every Olympic ski event."

Sen. Exe: "You fellows are taking the narrow view. There should be at least a cabinet post and an interstate sports commission. Why let the White House run everything?"

Sen. Wye: "Right, Harry. This could be the biggest thing for politicians since the first rivers and harbors bill was passed. Remember, every part of the country needs more facilities."

Rep. Pa: "It would be a boon to the economy. Think of the coal industry. You can't build cinder tracks without burning coal for cinders."

Rep. Tee: "And the fiber glass industry, too. We'd need millions of glass vaulting poles."

Rep. Gee: "Why import vaulting Poles. Don't we have enough vaulting Americans?"

Sen. Zee: "We can't let the Russians get ahead of us. I hear they're applying their rocket techniques to the pole vault to sling their men higher."

Rep. Queue: "The refrigeration industry has been weak with so many people not keeping up payments on deep freezers. They could convert to skating rinks—and all the bobsled and ski courses in the South would have to be refrigerated the year round."

Rep. Aye: "Deep freezers. Don't mention them in Washington."

Sen. Exe: "I hear they already have offered Bud Wilkinson the post of minister of Olympics if he'll dump the election for senator."

Rep. Tee: "Impossible. He'd try to run the modern pentathlon from a split T formation. I nominate Darrell Royal."

Rep. Gee: "He already has everything — coach, athletic director, professor and half the oil wells."

Sen. Zee: "Well, how about Bobby? Or Teddy? Or Sargent? Or Stephen? Or Peter?"

Rep. Eff: "Or Frankie Boy?"

Sen. Wye: "They're too young. One of them could be undersecretary of repechages."

What's that?"

Sen. Wye: "I don't know. It's a word you always use about rowing so they'll think you're an expert. Like the rumb line in yachts."

Rep. Tee: "How about Stan Musial?"

Sen. Wye: "The Man? Not in an election year. We need the women's votes."

Yogi's Talk May Be Confusing, But Yankees Get the Meaning

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—(NEA)—Last summer, Lawrence Peter (Yogi) Berra, coach of the New York Yankees, sat in the cool of the dugout next to Anthony Christopher (Tony) Kubek and said, "I'm going to manage this club."

Kubek's finger described a bunch of circles around his right ear.

So Berra turned his attention to Mickey Charles Mantle and asked, "How would you like to play for me?"

Mantle tugged at the wad of gum in his cheek and blew a big bubble.

This spring, Mantle, nattily attired in the blue blazer and gray trousers to go with his $100,000 salary, reported to the spiffy Fort Lauderdale Stadium which is training home for the Yankees and complained: "Imagine—he already knew he had the job. Well, at least they don't ask me about my legs. Everybody wants to know about Yogi."

A Significant Sign

One of the most significant sights of recent baseball history is the lumpy, shambling figure of Yogi Berra, directing operations of the proudest dynasty in the history of baseball.

His predecessor, Ralph Houck, sometimes ducks into the dugout, but he isn't even chewing a wad of tobacco because "it might spatter all over this nice gray suit."

Yogi stands with his toes pointed in a duck waddle, one hand tucked in a back pocket, the other curled around a bat or glove, and commands a precise workout, neatly split into time segments. He politely answers all questions. He's neither droll nor comic nor embarrassed, nor does he even look grotesque any more. Baseball is Yogi's business.

Only a few guys get to him, like Edward Charles (Whitey) Ford, the dean of his pitching staff and his coach in that department.

"You better" advises Ford, "learn how to say calisthenics. It's not calisthenics."

"Aw," says Yogi, "they know what I mean."

New Exercises

Berra's "first" as a manager is the introduction of setting-up exercises to all Yankee work-outs to loosen up the players for the muscle-stretching work ahead. It was an idea he got last summer and told Houk, his general manager, that he was going to put in.

When John Blanchard, the reserve catcher-infielder came to camp, he greeted Yogi, "Hi, Skip."

Yogi looked him up and down and grunted approval over the 10 pounds Blanchard had taken off his middle. He checked the gear in Blanchard's locker, noted the finger gloves, and said, "Put 'em in that box over there and keep 'em there."

It was Yogi's way of telling John he'd be a catcher this spring.

Steve Hamilton, the tall left-handed pitcher who's a physical education instructor at Morehead College in Kentucky, between seasons, chuckled, "Yogi is very well organized and very much aware."

In the seclusion of his manager's office, Yogi chews on a cigar, the only manifestation of authority he picked up from Houk, and observes confidently, "I like managing these guys because I know 'em. I know who the wise guys are. Mantle asks me, 'You gonna be tough? You'll be taking all my money.'"

"Only thing is these guys'll have to find other hangouts. I know all the old ones."

It didn't sound like the same guy who was pulled off to one side a year ago in the same place by Ralph Houk.

"You're going to manage," said Houk.

"Manage who?" asked Berra innocently.

Fred Orr Wallops High 611 Triple

Fred Orr was tops in the Independent Tavern league with 611 on 185, 217 and 209, Ed Van Loan had a triplicate of 149.

Others, Jim Noble 530, Bill Whalen 200-562, Champ Holstein 537, Tom Hines 221-574, Bill Maisenhelder 538, George Shufeldt 201-580, Dan McGrane 559, Bill Sill 539, Joe Brocco 527, Don Ferraro 224-548, Frank McSpirt 535, Bill Glaser 534.

Results: Hurley Haven No. 1, 2, Cyprus Inn 1; Jo-Al's 2, Riverview Rest 1; Hurley Haven No. 2, 2, Retreat 1; Maple Hill 2, Curly's 1; Chez Emile 3, Corner Rest 0; By-Pass Tavern 2, Oehler's Mtn. Lodge 1.

EMILLIO PRIMO was No. 1 shooter in the Men's Junior Major with 215, 158 and 213 for 586. Nat Phillips hit 203-567, Warren Wood 232-546, Vince DeCicco 530, Carlo Perry 207-532, Mike Yonta 215-551, Hap Rockwell 216-540, Bill Weishaupt 540, Pete Esposito Jr. 209-566, Sam Macalaine 211-534, Bud Lowe 539, Results: J and A Roofing 2, Dallas Hot Weiners 1; Esposito's 3, Turck's Real Estate 0; Unknowns 2, American Legion 1; Sunnyside Grill 2, Reub's Service Station 1.

Clay to Undergo Mental Exam Friday, Contenders to Wait

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cassius Clay's brain gets a re-match with Uncle Sam on Friday—and Sonny Liston, along with all the other heavyweight boxing contenders, will have to await the outcome before matching brawn with the champion.

After reportedly flunking the mental test in a previous Selective Service examination, Clay gets another chance in Louisville.

"I really tried hard — real hard — on that mental test," Clay said. "It wasn't too hard, I guess, but I never was a good reader or a good speller, not brainy with the pencil and paper. I got out of (Louisville) Central High with a D-minus."

While Cassius prepared for the exam, Manager Bill Faversham slayed the contenders for Clay's crown.

"If Cassius is not accepted by the Army, Liston deserves the next bout because he's the one who lost his title to Cassius," Faversham said.

"If Liston's left arm is in such shape that he cannot fight, then I'd say that the men who deace Ernie Terrell and Eddie Maserne a chance are Doug Jones, chen, and I'd have to put all of them before Floyd Patterson."

During the weekend, Patterson offered to fight Clay for no purse, with a $750,000 guarantee to the champion. Clay's ire rose over Patterson's reference to taking the title away from the Black Muslims.

Clay said he didn't like the mention of his religion when discussing his professional life. The 22-year-old Louisville native.

UCLA Club Voted Best

By STRAT JONES
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Basketball Coach John Wooden of UCLA, when informed that his Bruins ranked above all major college teams in The Associated Press final poll of the 1963-64 season, said:

"To get this far it takes talent and luck, and we hope that both continue to stick with us."

A regional panel of 40 broadcasters and writers gave UCLA 34 votes for first place and 392 points in an over-all vote tally, giving the Bruins a good margin over Michigan, which collected 341 points.

Michigan was followed by Duke, Kentucky, Wichita, Oregon State, Villanova, Loyola of Chicago, DePaul and Davidson.

Coach Wooden said he spoke for his players when expressing pride that the panel elected his team tops in the nation — the first West Coast team to finish there since the San Francisco Dons did it in 1956.

The Bruins drew all but six of the votes for first place. Duke claimed three and Michigan, Oregon State and Loyola drew one each.

Here are the Top Ten, their first place votes, and point awards on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (34) 392
2. Michigan (1) 341
3. Duke 300
4. Kentucky 258
5. Wichita 227
6. Oregon State (1) 190
7. Villanova 124
8. Chicago Loyola (1) 120

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS

The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employees engaged in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employees in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 8, 1956, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Grand Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

Granny Chases Hit-Run Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "It was up to me — nobody else was going to stop him," Vera Warner, 49-year-old grandmother, said after chasing an accused hit-run driver more than three miles until he was arrested Monday.

Mrs. Warner had watched in horror as a car sped past her and slammed into two elderly sisters helping each other across a street.

"I saw what was going to happen," said Mrs. Warner. "He hit them both and they flew into the air. It made me sick. He kept on going."

The sisters, Nora Eastman and Marie Mindenhall, were killed instantly in the accident at Geary Boulevard and 36th Avenue. The women lived together in a nearby apartment.

The driver accused of hitting them was arrested after a police car crashed into his auto about three miles from the scene. Mrs. Warner was still in pursuit, honking her horn to attract attention.

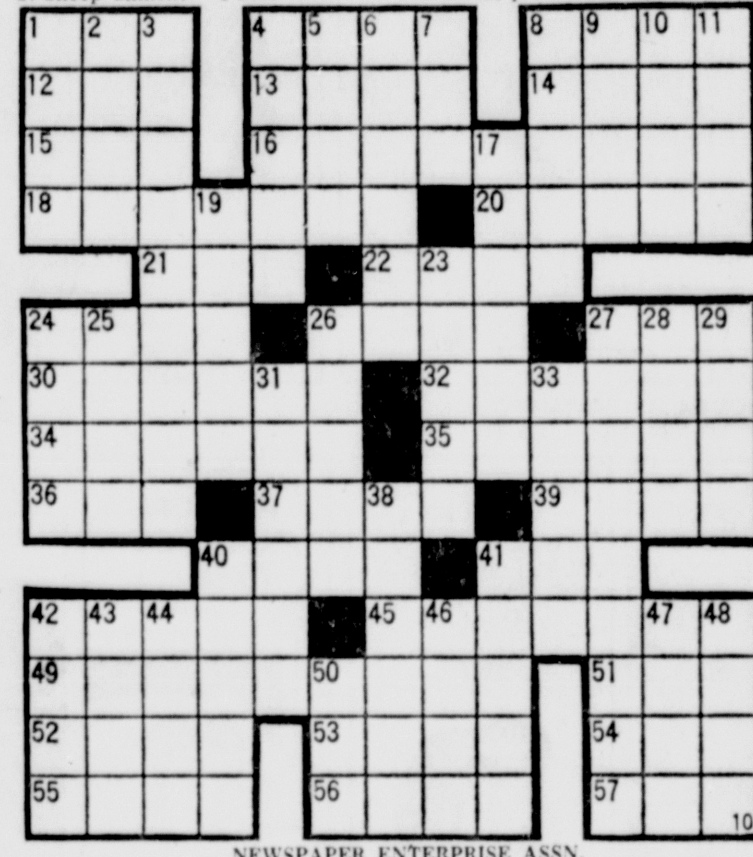

"I can't remember hitting those two sisters. I started drinking at 10 o'clock," police quoted the driver, Ronald C. Lambert, 32, of San Carlos, Calif. He was booked on suspicion of felony manslaughter, felony hit-run driving, drunken driving and running a red light.

King's Daughters Society Observes Diamond Jubilee

The Diamond Jubilee Year celebration, recognizing the 75th anniversary of the founding of the "Trusting Ten Circle" of the King's Daughters Society, began Saturday with a tea at the church hall in Shady. Members and visitors enjoyed a program highlighting the history and activities of the International Order and its local circle.

"The Shady Boys," Giles Malkine and James Manuel, two young boys of the community, played guitars and sang folk songs. The songs included an original song written by the boys in honor of the occasion.

The "Trusting Ten Circle" was organized in Shady on March 6, 1889, with 27 members. Mrs. John T. Miller was the first president. Mrs. Cora Burhans Van Aken and Mrs. Vena Hoyt Bryon are the only living members of the original circle, and momentos of the Saturday event were sent to them.

Through the medium of a panel of four members of the King's Daughters Society, moderated by Mrs. Hugh Martin, current president, it was revealed that the original International Order of the King's Daughters was organized in New York City on January 13, 1886, with a circle known as the "Original Ten." Three years later the circle in Shady was formed.

Panel Members
The panel of members, consisting of Miss Evelyn Stone, Mrs. Eugene Howland, Mrs. Hugh Hafele and Mrs. Arthur MacDaniel, related that the original aim of the King's Daughters Society was to find "Reality in Religion," through an interdenominational organization.

Their wish was not to divert the interest of its members from their own churches, but rather to intensify their religious knowledge and increase their service both in and beyond their own groups.

The International badge of membership is the silver maltese cross bearing the initials I.H.N., "In His Name." The official colors of the society are silver and purple, with the decorations and corsages for the tea in these colors. The Order has three purposes: Religious, philanthropic, and educational. These purposes were explained to the audience by the panel members.

Psychiatric Test Facing Hudson Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Harold P. Linn, 55, of Hudson, faces a psychiatric examination after pleading innocent to a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting of an Albany police sergeant.

Linn entered the plea of innocent Monday before Judge Martin P. Schenck of Albany County Court.

Schenck also granted a request by his court-appointed attorney, James J. Drislane, for a psychiatric test.

Linn is charged with the shotgun slaying of Sgt. Thomas P. McAvoy, 44, in an Albany home on Jan. 28 when the sergeant, answering a trouble call, interrupted what was alleged to be a holdup.

Linn, who served 23 years in prison for a 1931 slaying, was arrested in Chicago.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Col. John H. Glenn's wife, Annie, plans to take the campaign trail Monday in behalf of her husband, who seeks Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Mrs. Glenn announced that she and Mrs. Rene Carpenter, wife of astronaut M. Scott Carpenter, will attend a series of social gatherings with Democratic and independent women voters in all sections of Ohio.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Emily Cheney Neville of New York, author of a novel for teenagers called "It's Like This, Cat," has been awarded the John Newberry Medal for the "most distinguished contribution to American literature for children" in 1963.

The award was announced Monday by the American Library Association.

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow Radio broke into a regular program to announce the winner of the Taras Shevchenko prize.

Winner of the prize named for the Russian poet was cited for his "contribution in developing and strengthening Ukrainian socialist culture."

The award was made by the Republican Committee of the Ukraine, a government agency. The winner was Premier Khrushchev.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Gary Merrill has won his court fight to retain custody of his 12-year-old adopted son, Michael, every other weekend.

Michael's mother, actress Bette Davis, had asked Superior Judge Edward R. Brand to withdraw Merrill's visitation rights. She accused the actor of carousing on nights when Michael was in his custody.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The new king of the Hellenes is expected to call himself Constantine, but he will be known officially as Constantine II, say sources in the Greek court.

He signed his formal oath after the death of his father last Friday simply: Constantine Rex (King Constantine). His father, King Paul I, didn't use the Roman numeral after his name either.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Quote of the day: Danny Brown, 14, who swam to a car, pulled out 53-year-old Walter Overman, and led him half a block through a flooded street to dry ground, described his feat thusly: "I went down there and took him up on the walk."

Since 1947-1949 costs for all consumer items have risen 29 per cent, but food has risen only 22 per cent. Rents are up 45 per cent and medical care 67 per cent.

The family doctor had brought the boy into the world and had followed his career with great interest. The boy grew up, went to medical school, and was graduated. When he was ready to hang out his shingle he announced to the old physician that he was going to be a specialist -- a nose specialist. He explained that the ear and mouth were to large a subject to be covered by one man.

The aged general practitioner seemed to be awed by the young man's learning. Then he asked: Old Doctor -- Which nostril are you specializing in?

G-U Sales Hit Peak

EAST PATERSON, N. J. — Thomas C. Butler, President of The Grand Union Company, today announced the highest annual sales figure ever recorded by the 92-year-old Eastern food chain — $667,455,934 during the 52-week 1963 fiscal year, ended February 29, 1964. The new sales record is an increase of 5.9 per cent over sales of $630,529,554 for the 52-week 1962 fiscal year. Sales during the final five-week period of the 1963 fiscal year, through February 29, totaled $64,468,890 compared with $60,766,074 during the comparable period in 1962, an increase of 5.1 per cent.

Minuteman Tests Fills Skies With Colorful Displays

By RALPH DIGHTON
VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Some of the most spectacular fireworks ever seen by man have been staged free of charge over the past few months by the Air Force.

Residents of Western states can expect to witness more high-altitude pyrotechnics as this West Coast missile base continues to test-fire an improved Minuteman intercontinental rocket.

The new Minuteman, designed to overcome an early version's limited range with higher energy propellants, has a much hotter exhaust.

This is one of the reasons for the recent unprecedented displays of colorful and explosive contrails in the Western skies that have awed and delighted thousands.

The hotter exhaust means a stronger and more dramatic interaction with the cold upper atmosphere and more molecules of steam and combustion debris to act like tiny, dancing prisms in the sunlight.

Hotter gases also explain the explosions seen in the contrails of recent Minuteman missiles. The new Minuteman goes so fast and its hotter exhaust expands so rapidly that when it streaks into a layer of thinner air, its contrail seems to explode.

Contrails are created when the difference in temperature between atmosphere and exhaust is great enough to cause condensation. Jet planes, with their lower exhaust heat, run into these conditions only at high altitudes. Missiles have contrails until they run out of fuel.

On clear days when temperature and humidity conditions are right, skies over missile and air bases in California are cross-hatched with white trails of steam.

Missiles launched from the East Coast head away from the setting sun and out over the ocean where there are few human eyes to watch.

Mrs. Kamen Resigns LWV Director Post

Mrs. David Gerberg, president of the League of Women Voters of Kingston, announced today the resignation of Mrs. Morton Kamen from the board of directors.

Mrs. Kamen has been appointed to the executive board of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee for School Boards Elections. In keeping with the League's policy of supporting issues and not candidates, members of the board may not actively participate in political parties or other organizations which endorse candidates.

Mrs. Kamen in giving her resignation from the board said that she would still remain an active member of the League of Women Voters as she has been for the past five years. The League of Women Voters encourages all members to become active participants in political parties and to bring their experiences and efforts into the community in service to worthwhile groups.

It is only while serving as an officer of the League that any restrictions prevail which may jeopardize its non-partisan policy.

Says Auschwitz Crimes Stagger Imagination

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A witness told Germany's war crimes trial today that guards at Auschwitz concentration camp "cavorted with beautiful, buxom Jewesses to relax from the strains of gassing thousands of Jews to death."

The witness was Dr. Konrad Morgen at the trial of 22 former SS guards and Auschwitz functionaries.

Morgen was an investigating attorney for the SSS during World War II.

Morgen said he discovered that SS men were sending home "pounds and pounds of gold teeth that came from thousands of gassed prisoners."

"Things went on at Auschwitz which stagger the imagination," he said.

The witness said that he could do nothing about the crimes against humanity he witnessed at Auschwitz "because these crimes were carried out on Hitler's orders."

No Applause For This Bid

There is a wonderful article by Edgar Kaplan in the first issue of Modern Bridge which starts with the sentence, "I hate the unusual no-trump."

The "unusual no-trump" is a modern convention in which when no-trump is bid under unusual circumstances the player is not showing a no-trump hand, but rather is asking his partner to bid a minor suit.

West's opening of two spades was the weak two bid. In spite of East's raise to three Edgar decided he wanted to play three no-trump. His partner smiled happily and bid four diamonds on the theory that Edgar's no-trump had been unusual.

Nothing daunted, Edgar went to four hearts. He said, "We didn't know what we were doing so we might as well be in game where our confusion would do us some good."

East doubled and Edgar stood by his guns. The jack of clubs was opened. Edgar won in his own hand, cashed one high trump and led the jack of diamonds. Eventually he discarded one of his clubs on the long diamond in dummy and would up making four hearts doubled.

Three no-trump would almost surely have gone down, four hearts played from the other seat would probably have been set by a spade opening and an immediate diamond shift. Yet, Edgar did make four hearts doubled.

His conclusion was that apparently a certain providence watches over players who misuse the unusual no-trump.

TO BE RESTORED: Restaurant is a word borrowed from France. It actually means "that which restores," referring to the fact that after food is eaten energy is restored.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

NEW YORK (AP) — Mitch Miller, the "sing along" man, says NBC is the string-along network.

"The network knew months ago that it planned to drop my show next season," Miller grumbled. "But instead of telling us then, they waited until March 1 to give us the news. Why did they keep stringing us along? Probably to keep us from making a deal to move elsewhere. They were afraid they'd look foolish if we landed on another network and started hitting one of their new shows in the ratings."

Miller, who owns "Sing Along With Mitch," complained that the only suggestion he had from the high command this season was to try some guest stars—"not to improve our ratings, but to work a little change in the show."

"We tried it in three shows," he said. "The only one that increased our audience was the show with Shirley Temple. People wrote in and asked us to cut out guests like Milton Berle and George Burns. They said they liked them but could see them other places, and they liked our show the way it was."

Miller's show has been constantly moved around during four seasons in the NBC schedule. It has been seen on Thursday and on Friday nights and this season had a late Monday night spot, following a re-run of an old movie and "Hollywood and the Stars," which received consistently poor ratings.

Miller said NBC brass told him his show was out so the network could try something "new and fresh."

"New and fresh," he said. "I didn't say anything about old feature films for two hours at a clip. And the new and fresh thing they are bumping us for is Alfred Hitchcock's series, which has been around longer than we have."

Recommended tonight: New Hampshire primary returns, all networks.

Turks Oppose Jose Rolz

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The Turkish government has decided to oppose the appointment of Jose Rolz Bennett of Guatemala as the U.N. mediator for Cyprus, a high government source said Monday.

The rejection will be based on the grounds that Bennett, who is Secretary - General U. Thant's deputy chief of cabinet, lacks the necessary international standing and experience for the post, the informant said.

Hollywood News, Views

By DAVE SMITH
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rita Hayworth long ago joined that handful of female stars, like Theda Bara or Marilyn Monroe, who symbolize Hollywood glamour—of the kind you mention in a posthumous tone, as if to say, "Ah, those were the days."

Hollywood put her through a spate of films, and by the late 1940s, with such films as "Gilda" or "Lady from Shanghai," she was the all-time love goddess, a living legend.

But Hollywood wasn't all beer and skittles for Rita, a veteran of 33 years in films. She went through five marriages, five divorces and bitter publicity. Abruptly, in the late 1950s, Hollywood seemed to find less need of Rita Hayworth's services.

She didn't look like Gilda any more, but producers had a hard time visualizing the actress in any other context. She was the legendary love goddess — stereotyped, immortalized and pretty well discarded. And not yet 40.

Then, in 1958, she appeared in the film of Terence Rattigan's "Separate Tables" and won critical acclaim in the dramatic role of an unhappy, divorced.

Next came Glendon Swarthout's "They Came to Cordura," in which she scored again as a mature, unglamorous political prisoner.

Now Rita's back in her Beverly Hills home, just having finished "Circus World" for Samuel Bronston in Spain. And in this one, she's the mother of Claudia Cardinale, one of Europe's newest va-va-voom girls.

Rita still is a red-haired shapely eye-fel. She doesn't look quite like Gilda, she doesn't look like Dame May Whitty either.

And what does she think about these days?

Her mature role in "Separate Tables" opened new doors for her as a dramatic actress, she says, and that's the line she intends to pursue. Being a love goddess was fun, she admits. But Rita's a big girl now.

3-6 Inch Snow Predicted for Sections of N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Many New Yorkers just recovering from last week's widespread floods struggled today against wind-blown, freezing rain, sleet and snow.

Hazardous travel forced school-closings in some areas. The wintry mixture, in the wake of spring-like weather, extended from the Catskills north and west. New York City and other portions of the extreme southeast had rain.

The Weather Bureau said the storm would taper off tonight, after accumulations of 3-6 inches of snow in much of the Upstate area. Wednesday is expected to be generally fair, with high temperatures ranging from the 20s and 30s Upstate to the 50s in the New York City area.

Printer's Cite Automation as Issue in Broome

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Automation is the issue in a strike by a printers' union of the Vail-Ballou Press Inc., a book-publishing firm.

Richard A. Brown, international representative for the International Typographical Union, said the 84 members of Local 232 walked off the job Monday protesting the use of perforated tape submitted to the firm by publisher-customers.

The union contends that the tapes, which are run through type-casting machines to produce reading matter, should be punched in the plant.

Jack D. Vail vice president of the firm, said the union had been guaranteed no loss of jobs would result from use of tapes supplied by customers.

The firm employs about 600 persons.

3 From Catskill Held for Jury On Check Charges

Three Catskill residents were ordered held for grand jury action Monday when they waived preliminary examination before Peace Justice Robert Stedje, Town of Ulster, on a felony charge of second-degree forgery.

Committed to Ulster County Jail were Clifford Warren Chichester Jr., 30, and his wife, Barbara Marie, 18, of 170 Broome Street, and Lynn Frances Hold, 18, all of Catskill.

State Police said the trio was arrested in connection with the forgery of checks.

In another case, Billy Robertson, 31, of 42 South Broad Street, Cairo, Ga., was committed to the county jail by Peace Justice Raymond Lawrence, Town of Rochester, on a petit larceny charge.

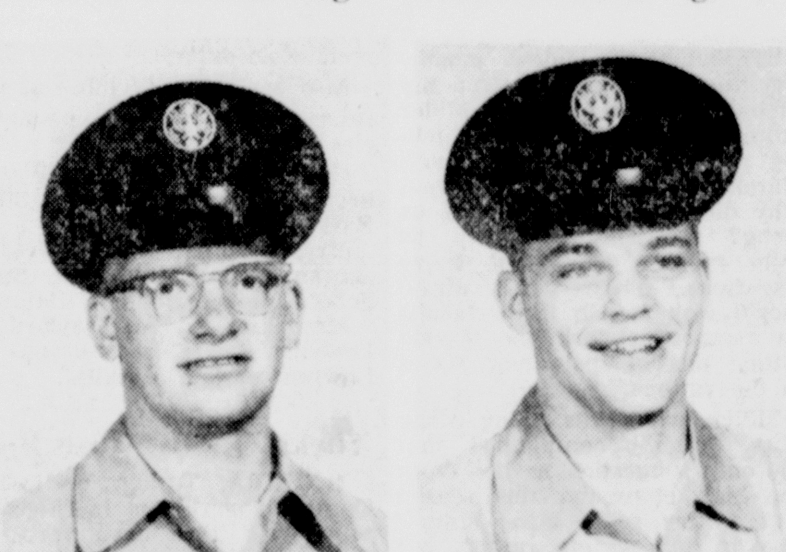

Troopers charged Robertson with the theft of $25.18 from the wallet of his roommate. They said Robertson was a former employee of the Granit Hotel.

Some See Carrier as Sitting Duck

Big 'E' Commands Awe, Worth Also Questioned

ABOARD USS ENTERPRISE (AP)—Like some haughty duchess, the gigantic American aircraft carrier Enterprise commands awe but also provokes arguments about her worth.

Stress Mobility
Her defenders argue that this nuclear-powered, 86,200-ton warship now maneuvering in the Mediterranean with her 101 planes and surface escorts, constitutes the most sophisticated weapons system in the world, with advantages of mobility and a wide spectrum of military responses.

Her critics contend that the Enterprise, for all her newness, is a $300-million white elephant, hopelessly out of date in a missile world in which the Polaris submarine fits neatly.

One thing is beyond dispute. The Navy loves the Enterprise. The 1,123-foot-long ship is the repository for traditions built up in the Pacific naval battles of World War II. The future of the naval aviator revolves around the Big E's successor.

Rear Adm. William I. Martin, commander of the 6th Fleet's Carrier Division 2, employs the Enterprise as his flagship. He was a young flying officer on the old Enterprise, the Big E of wartime fame.

For sentiment's sake, the new Enterprise has only five port-holes in her hull, all taken from the old Enterprise. They grace the cabin of the new giant's skipper, Capt. Frederick H. Michaelis, a native of Kansas City. But tradition does not win wars, the doubters say.

Efficiency Not Enough

They argue that the Enterprise is really not a modern weapon despite the efficiency of her 5,000-man crew and her eight nuclear reactors that enable her to roam the ocean at high speed without refueling for three years or so.

Employed in a region as restricted as the Mediterranean, the Enterprise would be a sitting duck for rockets. Presumably the Russians keep rockets homed in on her now as she maneuvers with the 6th Fleet.

9 Clerics Fined In Miss. Case; 1 Foreits Bail

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—Nine out-of-state clergymen convicted of disorderly conduct and another convicted of assaulting a policeman while helping a Negro voter registration drive have been fined from $250 to $400.

The fines, reached through legal compromises that ended the appeal cases, were ordered Monday by County Judge William Harralson, after the 10 pleaded no contest.

He ordered final forfeitures of the $750 appeal bonds posted by the nine Presbyterian ministers after their city court convictions. Then he remitted $350 in each case.

The 10th minister, the Rev. Roy Smith of a Disciples of Christ Church in Baudler, Colo., forfeited $250. He was convicted of assaulting the policeman, but claimed he merely "brushed bellies" with the officer while moving past him.

The Rev. Mr. Smith and the Rev. Robert F. Nichol of New York City, one of the nine, were charged with contempt of court earlier in the day and fined $10. They sat with Negro spectators in the courtroom and refused the judge's order to move to other seats.

The other ministers involved were Ralph P. Bohn of Garfield, N.J.; Charles Yerkes of New York City; Donald P. Scott and Charles H. Nelson, Hollis, N.Y.; K. Stephen Parmelee, Roosevelt, N.Y.; Ronald S. James, Otisville, N.Y.; Emil J. Hattoon, Decatur, Ill.; and Donald B. Register, St. Louis, the only Negro.

Skier Found Dead

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—A private secretary from New York City found dead on Mt. Mansfield apparently was the victim of a skiing accident.

Authorities said yesterday that Helen Shea, 31, had suffered injuries "consistent with an accident," including a broken right leg, several broken ribs and a collapsed right lung.

The office of state's attorney Lewis Snell said there is no suspicion of foul play.

Miss Shea's body was found, still wearing skis, along an expert ski trail that had been roped off as too dangerous due to ice patches and bare spots.

Slays Son, Self

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Police say a 44-year-old woman apparently shot her son to death, then turned a rifle on herself in her rural home about three miles south of this Otsego County community.

The bodies of Mrs. Priscilla E. Wright and her son Gordon, 19, were found Monday in an upstairs bedroom by a neighbor. Sheriff Harold F. Knapp said Mrs. Wright had been under psychiatric care.

Capital News In Brief

DEFENSE MONEY: Congress has stamped its final approval on a $17 billion defense authorization bill — the largest in peacetime history.

Included in the measure sent Monday to President Johnson was $52 million which the Air Force asked for research on a new bomber for the 1970s.

Both houses had earlier voted the funds, in a slap at the Johnson administration which had asked only $5 million for research on the bomber.

SOCIAL SECURITY SNAFU: The Social Security Administration says it is straightening out the accounts of people who used as their Social Security number one placed on a sample Social Security card in wallets sold by a chain store in 1938.

A check of the wage account items received during the July-September quarter of 1963 showed 19 items where people used the number 078-05-1120, a spokesman said. He added that 27 people used that number during the second quarter of last year and 24 during the first quarter.

U.S.-LIBYA: The State Department says the United States is "prepared to discuss at any time" the 1954 agreement that permits it to maintain a military base in Libya.

But a spokesman denied Monday that any formal communication had been received from the Libyan government. News dispatches from Libya had reported the government of the North African nation had asked the United States and Great Britain to start talks on liquidation of their Libyan bases.

Seize Local Youths For Dutchess Trouble

Three Kingston youths were arrested at the Hudson Plaza shopping center on South Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, Monday afternoon and charged with disorderly conduct. Before Justice of the Peace Donald Holden of Town of Poughkeepsie they were fined $25 each on a plea of guilty or in lieu thereof sentenced to 15 days in the Dutchess County jail. They were remanded to jail.

According to Town of Poughkeepsie police the three youths, Larry Allen, 16, of 113 Hunter Street, Joseph E. Albright, 17, and Clerk Haslam, 16, of 51 West Union Street, had been annoying girls in the shopping center. When Detective Sergeant David Cundy and Detective George Lochner approached the youths they became disorderly and were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct.

Beaumont Heads Retail Division In Chamber Drive

Bob Beaumont, president of Bob Beaumont, Inc., of 515 Albany Avenue, area Chrysler-Plymouth Agency, will serve as chairman of the Retail or Commercial Division of the forthcoming Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive.

While attending Kingston High School Beaumont played both varsity basketball and baseball. He subsequently attended the State University College at Oneonta and Hartwick College.

In 1955 he became affiliated with the Plymouth Agency, became the sales manager in 1957 and acquired the agency in 1962.

In announcing Beaumont's appointment today, Harry Kaprielian, general chairman of the Chamber of Commerce drive said that he was pleased to have him take an active part in the planning and execution of the plans. This year the membership drive will take place from March 16 to April 15. The goal is to obtain 100 new memberships, mostly new enrollments with some increases subscribed for as additional duplicate memberships.

Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont have five children, the oldest, seven years of age, attending St. Joseph's school. He served in the U. S. Air Force in 1950-52 and is interested in sports and community affairs.

Unionist Fined, Accepted Favors From Builders

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A union official has been fined $1,000 and placed on probation for six months for unlawfully accepting a house, labor and building materials from a construction company.

John G. Pavlisak Jr., 52, of Binghamton, a steward with Local 7 of the Hod Carriers Union in Binghamton, was penalized Monday by Judge Stephen W. Brennan of U.S. District Court. Pavlisak pleaded guilty Feb. 10.

The government said Pavlisak paid $1 to L. G. DeFelice & Son of New Haven, Conn., for the house, which had been condemned to make room for construction of Interstate Route 81.

Other Court Action

In other action in federal court: —Robert H. Reed, 25, of Camillus, an avowed conscientious objector, was sentenced to two years in federal prison for disobeying an order from his draft board to report for civilian work as an alternative to military service.

—Frank Palmisano, a Utica nightclub operator, pleaded innocent to charges of evading payment of $15,736 in federal excise taxes. He was released in the custody of his attorney, pending trial. No trial date was set.

—Patricia Ann Lester, 21, of Port Byron, pleaded innocent to four counts of mail theft, conspiracy and forging and cashing government checks. She is accused of being part of a large-scale forgery operation that allegedly operated in Syracuse and Utica. She was continued on or bail pending trial. No trial date was set.
